TWO MEN ADMIT THEY WERE HIRED TO SHOOT FARMER TO DEATH ON ROAD

Pair Confess Murder of Man and Declare They Were to Receive $250
Apiece for Crime.

THIRD PRISONER NAMED INSTIGATOR

Assert Man Urged Them by Threats to Carry Out Plot—Grower Waylaid
on Road.

Two of the three men held in the Madison County jail at Edwardsville in connection with the murder of John Nungesser, a farmer who was slain on the road near Highland last Monday afternoon, have confessed to Sheriff Edward J. Dealing that they shot Nungesser to death at the instigation of the third, who was to pay them $250 apiece for the assassination.

After several hours' questioning of the trio last night, during which they clung to the denial that they made when arrested early yesterday morning, Jacob Landert, 39 years old, a farmhand, and Eldo Wernli, 21, a shoe worker, admitted they had done the shooting. They told the officers where the revolver used in the murder might be found.

Search for Weapons.
Sheriff Dealing and a deputy went to the designated point early today to begin the search for the third prisoner, Earl Fricke, a well-to-do farmer, instigated the crime, they said, and urged them to the killing by threats and promises to pay.

Fricke, who is the father-in-law of Wernli and the employer of Landert, persistently denies implication in the crime. On the other hand, Mrs. Minnie Nungesser, widow of the slain man, today said Fricke had been hostile toward her husband since her marriage because Nungesser had insisted on the payment of $1500 back wages for the Fricke home before her work.

The widow said Fricke had tried to induce her to turn to his farm to live. The confessions, which were verbal, were obtained, according to Sheriff Dealing, without use of any degree of methods and were made in the presence of him and Deputy Sheriff Thomas C. Dooner. Landert, who was the first to be interrogated, admitted his guilt when confronted with evidence that Wernli's automobile had been parked near the spot where Nungesser was killed about 5 p. m. Monday. It was this report, incidentally, which led to the arrest of Wernli at 1 a. m. yesterday.

"I did do it," Landert is quoted by the Sheriff as saying. "Fricke had been waiting a long time to help him get rid of Nungesser."

When Fricke wanted to get rid of Nungesser the prisoner was unable to say, but he declared his employer had frequently threatened him and Wernli with violence if they carried out his demands and then had agreed to pay them $250 each for the killing. Fricke remained at home Monday, he said, and took no actual part in the shooting.

Victim in Waylaid.
According to Landert's confession as reported by the officers, he and Wernli learned Nungesser was away from home Monday and decided to waylay him on the road near Wernli's machine to a mile from the farmer's home. Nungesser, who had been at work on a farm in Clinton County, was preparing to leave for his home and was leading a team to a field. When he drew near the spot where the two were concealed, they walked out to the road and aimed him in conversation. Landert followed and when within range drew a revolver and fired, the bullet striking Nungesser in the abdomen.

Nungesser, badly wounded, tried to leap from the wagon, but dying to the ground and being frightened at the firing, away. Landert and Wernli, according to the purported confession, walked up close to the farmer and riddled him with bullets from their revolvers. Fricke's only part in the shooting, according to the confession, was to threaten Nungesser with a shotgun.

CANDLES LIGHT VIENNA WHEN STRIKE SHUTS OFF ELECTRIC POWER PLANT

VIENNA, Sept. 17.—The city of Vienna was cast into darkness last night as a result of the unfavorable turn which negotiations between the metal workers and the employers in the metal industry took yesterday afternoon. When the negotiations failed, the strike committee of the metal workers authorized the powerhouse men to cut off light and power to the principal sections of the city.

BOY WHO FLED WITH $772,000 IN BONDS ACQUITTED BY JURY

Was in Dazed Condition at Sight of So Much Money.
Defense Contended.

DALTON, Sept. 17.—Willie Dalton, the boy bank messenger who fled from the Northern Trust Co. bank in 1921 with $772,000 in Liberty bonds, was acquitted by a jury today after a three-day trial, two juries having disagreed. Counsel for the boy had asked that the same benefit of doubt be given him as was extended to Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, who on account of their youth received life imprisonment instead of a sentence of death for the murder of Robert Frank.

Dalton, who was only 15 1/2 years old, according to his attorneys, when he stole the bonds, and who is attending high school here, testified in his trial that he had access to the bank's vaults and that he had counted millions of bonds while employed there.

FIRST INSPECTS PRISON, THEN DECIDES TO PLEAD GUILTY

KANSAS MAN, ACCUSED OF MAN-SLAUGHTER AFTER AUTO CRASH, SAYS
HE "NOT SO BAD."

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 17.—John Miller yesterday went to the State penitentiary at Lansing, to see "conditions" under which the prisoners worked, and on his return said he had decided to plead guilty tomorrow on a charge of manslaughter, in connection with the death of Grover Berry, a fireman, in March, 1923.

Miller was the driver of a car which collided with a truck and ladder truck driven by Berry, who was killed. Miller is alleged to have been intoxicated at the time. "Why, it doesn't seem so bad," said Miller as he walked out of the penitentiary gates. "I believe I would like that better than the jail." He has already been tried twice on the charge and each time the jury disagreed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Motion picture competition found its way even into the Arctic last winter, according to Capt. Donald B.
MacMillan, whose expedition, returning after 15 months in the North, was nearing this port today.

When the schooner Bowdoin, carrying the MacMillan party left last year part of her equipment was a motion picture outfit. The explorers believed that they would be the sole proprietors of a picture show in the Arctic region, but when they reached Greenland they were invited to attend a motion picture entertainment on board the Canadian Government steamer Arctic.

"We took the two ultra modern developments—motion pictures and radio—direct to a people who live and think exactly as their ancestors did 2000 years ago," MacMillan said.

"What did they think of them?"
I don't know. The interpreters said they expressed wonder and the belief that the white man can do anything. For my part I think some of them believed the radio was merely a machine like the phonograph that we wound up below decks. We told them the people they heard were speaking thousands of miles away, but I doubt if many of them were capable of understanding. It must have been a severe tax upon their primitive imagination."

GERMAN-BORN AMERICAN HELD FOR PIRACY BY PARIS POLICE

Is Charged With Seizing Liquor on French Freighter Off Atlantic Coast of U. S. in July.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—Jerome Max
Phaff, a naturalized American citizen, born in Germany, was arrested here today, charged with piracy in holding up the French freighter Marnac off the coast of the United States in July and robbing her of a cargo of more than 1000 cases of champagne and liquor.

The owners of the Mulhouse enployed private detectives, who said they obtained traces of the alleged pirate gang through bootleggers in the United States.

Phaff came here Sunday and was taken into custody yesterday by the police. The police, however, decided not to make formal charges until orders had been received from the maritime tribunal of Brest, with which the owners filed complaint after the Mulhouse had been looted.

WORLD FLYERS REACH OMAHA FROM CHICAGO

Circle Over City After Traveling 440 Miles in Four Hours and 44
Minutes.

By the Associated Press.
UNITED STATES AIR MAIL
FIELD, PORT CROOK, Near Omaha, Sept. 17.—America's around-the-world army flyers, on route to the West coast, added about 440 miles to their journey today
when they flew here from Chicago.

They landed here, about 10 miles south of Omaha, at 12:55 p. m.
(central standard time), 4 hours and 44 minutes from the time they left Chicago.

Whistles of the city's industrial concerns heralded the approach of the flyers long before they arrived over the city. The planes flew in spearhead formation, accompanied by one escort from the west, and crossed the Missouri River. Other planes from the United States Air mail field at Port Crook joined the world aviators as they flew over Omaha.

Downstream sections of the city were crowded with persons waiting to catch sight of the flyers. Traffic was suspended for a short time.
The stop at Omaha is of particular interest to Lieut. Leigh Woot, pilot of the Boston II, for his sister, Mrs. C. A. Francis of Denver, whom he had not seen since a year ago last April, was on the field to greet him.

HO-OP FROM CHICAGO FIELD Under Ideal Conditions.

By the Associated Press.
MAIL FIELD, Maywood, Ill.,
Sept. 17.—The round-the-world flyers hoped off from the air mail field here at 8:11 a. m. for Omaha.
Flying conditions were ideal.

Lieut. Smith was the first to take the air in his flag plane Chicago at 8:11 a. m. After him went Lieut. Woot, pilot of the Boston II, at 8:11 a. m. Lieut. Nelson in the New Orleans was off the ground at 8:12.

The three planes quickly were in formation, and at an altitude of 5000 feet headed straight west on the air mail course to Omaha.

As the three "Magellans" of the air ascended, the hundreds of spectators assembled to see them off sent up a rousing cheer. The visibility was so great that the three planes could be seen miles into the West. The sun glistened off the top of the orange-colored wings as they sped away.

"NO CRIME TO OWN STILL"

Chicago Judge Rules Possession in

tion of the law, Superior Judge David ruled yesterday, in freeing tenced to serve six months in jail for possession of a still without permission of the Attorney General.

"This is ridiculous," Judge David said. "I will release a man from jail every time he is sentenced under such circumstances."

POLITICIAN'S PLEA LED TO RETURN OF JIMMY MILES JR.

Constable Byrne Asked That Fugitive Be Enabled to See Father, Who Is Critically Ill.

JUDGE HAMILTON TELLS OF VISIT

"Situation Would Appeal to Almost Anyone With Human Feelings," Magistrate Says.

A politician's plea to Circuit
Judge Hamilton, that "Jimmy"
Miles Jr. might be enabled to return and see his father, Justice of the Peace Miles, who is critically ill, led to the agreement under which Miles, under indictment for first-degree murder, surrendered
Monday and was admitted to bond.
He had been a fugitive for seven months.

Miles could have returned and gone to jail, and could have requested that he be taken to see his father. It is very unlikely that such a request would have been denied. But that was not the proposal which John F. Byrne, Constable in Justice Miles' court, and Eighteenth Ward Democratic committeeman, made to Judge Hamilton when he called at the Judge's office last Friday. Judge Hamilton today told a Post-Dispatch reporter of the visit.

Tells of Byrne's Visit.
"Constable Byrne, whom I knew, came to me, accompanied by Daniel Naughton, whom I did not know previously," the Judge said. "He told me that Justice Miles was very ill, and wished to see his son. The son wished to come home, he said, and would come if he were admitted to bond.
I was presented the situation.
It was one that would appeal to almost anyone with human feelings and it appealed to me. But this situation was not, in itself, sufficient reason for granting bail where the charge was one of murder."

"I told them that I would have to read up the record of the case, to determine whether it was a case in which I might exercise discretion as to the matter of bond."

"Byrne procured the transcript of the Coroner's inquest in the case of Charles A. O'Neal, whom Miles is accused of killing," I read that,
and I sent to the Circuit Attorney for the grand jury notes on the same case."

Cites Supreme Court Rulings.
"After reading the transcript and notes, I concluded that the case was one for the exercise of the court's discretion. Under the rulings of the Supreme Court, where the proof of guilt is not manifest, or the punishment great, such discretion exists. The Hyde case at Kansas City, in which Dr. Hyde was admitted to bail, was a case of this character."

"It appeared to me, from the record, that the proof was not evidenced, and the prosecution not conclusive, in the meaning of the Supreme Court." So when Byrne returned Saturday, I told him I would accept $40,000 bail for Miles, and he said he would have the bail in court Monday, which was done."

Judge Hamilton said he was satisfied of his right to call for grand jury notes as he did in this case.
This has been done by some other judges in the criminal division, and Judge Grimm recently criticized a police witness because his testimony varied from that he had given before the grand jury, the Judge having read his grand jury testimony.

The trial of Miles for the murder of O'Neal, who was shot and killed in the Washington Hotel bar Feb.
5, is set for Judge Hamilton's dis-vision of the court, and is expected to come up in November. As was told yesterday, the principal witness in the case, Rudolph Schaefer, has not been found by the police since Miles' return, though he was seen at the Washington Hotel and two other important witnesses, who saw Miles at Police Headquarters Monday, said they could not identify him. The State will not be able to use the fact that Miles' flight was evidence against him, unless it can otherwise connect him definitely with the murder.

Shortly after the flight of young
Miles, his father, Justice Miles, called on Circuit Attorney Side-man, seeking to make arrangements for his return and release on bond.
The Circuit Attorney said he would not agree to bond in the case. He stated, when Judge Hamilton brought up the matter Monday, that he was still opposed to the granting of bond, but that the matter lay within the Judge's power.

"$12,000 HOUSE" TO HEAR LA FOLLETTE IN NEW YORK ADDRESS

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—SENATOR LA FOLLETTE will speak to a house sold out at theater prices, when he takes the platform in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night for his first New York appearance of the presidential campaign. Managers of the La Follette-Wheeler forces, explaining today that the reserved seats to the meeting had been sold at prices ranging from 55 cents to $2.20, said the Senator would speak to "a $12,000 house." The receipts are to be turned into the organization's campaign fund.

Thirty-six hours before the meeting, it was reported only a few hundred seats remained to be sold of 7,824 placed on sale a week ago. A line of men and women stood in the rain today to purchase the remaining seats.

First to be sold out were 210 seats at 55 cents each. The $1.10 seats, numbering 836, went next. Only a few of the 1648 seats at $1.65 remained this morning, the campaign workers said, while there was but a small block left of the 3168 seats at $2.20 each.

There will be about 7000 free seats.

STEP TOWARD HEAVIER TRAFFIC PENALTIES

Council to Consult With Police Court Judges at Its Next Meeting.

A step toward stiffer penalties for traffic law violators was taken today when the Traffic Council, at its weekly meeting, announced it would consult with Police Court Judges at its next meeting.

Capt. Gerk of the Police Traffic Bureau, intimated a few weeks ago that sentences might be effective, and cited an example of traffic law enforcement which he witnessed in Detroit.

Detroit Case Cited.
A vice president of a bank was haled before Judge Bartlett there and charged with speeding 35 miles an hour. There were no "fixers" or "fronters" in court, no bribe of the prosecutor, counsel, defendant and witnesses being allowed in the inclosure before the Judge. The policeman told of catching the speeder, and the speeder explained he was hurrying to a physician to treat his sick wife. The Judge declined to accept the excuse, remarking a telephone could have been used to reach the doctor, and sentenced the defending attorney to pay him $5000.

Capt. Gerk emphasized the defendant's prominence and said three such convictions in St. Louis, "regardless of social, political or financial position," would stop most violators.

The Council members questioned Harry Evans, Assistant City Engineer in Police Court, regarding fines. Evans said that most violators of the boulevard speed regulations usually were fined $5 and costs, or $8, whereas drivers who made left-hand turns, where prohibited, were let off with costs. Chairman Brod said the second offense was as serious as the first and should be punished accordingly.

Taxicab Situation Discussed.

The taxicab situation at Hotel Statler was again discussed, with representatives of the Red Top and Checker companies asking that all companies be allowed common parking space and have the same parking space. The Brown and Yellow companies, through having a starter inside the St. Charles street doors, "hog" the business, and the street and sidewalk were crowded with taxicabs. W. J. Brown of the latter company said he was willing all companies should use the same space, but maintained he had a right to an individual starter, for which privilege, he said, $150 a month is paid to the hotel. Chairman Brod said the situation called for "some solution" and promised to submit a plan at next Wednesday's meeting.

Arthur D. Rogers, representing the Chauffeurs' Union, asked if Brown had been telling the Council in executive session that the chauffeurs are "gassing trouble." He had a reply to Brown ready, but was told the Council was not interested in disputes between Brown and the chauffeurs. Rogers told reporters Brown recently displaced 15 old drivers with new men. The chauffeurs' contracts expire at the end of this year.

Slight Earthquake Recorded.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—A "rather slight" earthquake was recorded on the seismograph at Georgetown University here this morning. The tremors began at 2:09, lasting until 2:16. Father Tondorf, director of the seismological observatory, estimated the distance as 1400 miles south of Washington.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION PACT GIVEN TO LEAGUE

"Compilation Destined to Change World History," Is Designation of Those Who Have Studied It.

BRITISH FEAR MIX-UP WITH U. S.

Signatories Agree to Assist Attacked State—Refusal to Arbitrate Makes Nation
the Aggressor.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Sept. 17.—The draft protocol on arbitration and security framed by Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia, has created a profound impression among the delegates to the League of Nations Assembly.

Those who have studied it, even if they do not immediately accept all the provisions as they stand, have no hesitancy in characterizing the document as a compilation destined to change world history and direct its course into paths leading to peace. The delegates remark upon the fact that Dr. Benes found one of his chief sources of inspiration from the United States, for it was an American group headed by Prof. James T. Shotwell, Gen. Tasker Hiram and David Hunter Miller which, dismissing the experts' complicated definitions that led nowhere, returned to the point and defined an aggressor State as one which declined the jurisdiction of an arbitral tribunal.

Detailed discussion of the draft protocol clause is being continued today by the subcommittee. Meanwhile, Geneva awaits some definite initiative from Berlin concerning Germany's application for League membership. The attitude here is unchanged; it is that Germany must make the first step toward the League covenant, there is no indication of the British shifting their position. The French representatives continue to express liveliest satisfaction and the conviction that Great Britain will joyfully back up the League decisions and stand with all her force against any aggressor state.

Must Assist the Attacked.
The representatives of 12 Governments, sitting privately in subcommittee, gave preliminary approval yesterday to the several articles concerning sanctions in the draft protocol.

They expressed some apprehension concerning alliance which are permitted by the draft pact, although their delegates did not press this matter as the discussion continued. Former Premier Branting of Sweden, whose resignation, declination of the United States, declared that Dr. Benes had produced a document which would be given that close study which it warranted.

Among the articles dealing with sanctions which were thoroughly discussed was Article 7 of the protocol, providing for general contributions from all states, in order that the country which the arbitral tribunal has declared an aggressor may be outlawed. This article obligates the signatories to assist the attacked state and insure the safety of land and sea communication.

The French consider that this clause enables the operation of the League of Nations in time of war, and that it is even said in French quarters that Great Britain will go to the extent of contributing aerial and expeditionary forces should the situation be so menacing that such assistance seemed desirable.

With the British giving assent to the French, it is understood that the French on their part have been spending some time in convincing certain of the continental leaders that the draft protocol does not represent a sinister project whereby England might unduly extend her influence in continental Europe and become master not only of the high seas but of the continental mainland.

Regional Agreements Discussed.
The divergent British and French points of view on the question of regional agreements between states, authorized by the protocol, were set forth at the committee's

MAIL THOSE WHO FAIL TO VOTE, LANDIS SAYS

Former Jurist, Before Legion Convention, Urges Sentences to Bring Out Electorate.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 17.—Landis here this afternoon, urged those who fail to vote as an "encouragement" to the electorate to the polls, urged by former Judge Kennedy M. Landis, in an address to the American Legion's national convention here this afternoon. With characteristic postures and gestures, Landis assailed those who are spreading "villainous propaganda" against the American Legion "throughout the United States."

He declared he could not talk to the legion on the Constitution, but assigned subject for "had it been for what the organization represented by this gathering had done, there wouldn't be any Constitution of the United States."

Referring to the part taken by the legion in caring for its own disabled veterans, the speaker said: "Had it not been for the legion, the United States would not even have placed its foot on the threshold of the problem of hospitalization. And so with rehabilitation and other soldier problems."

When Commander Quinn introduced Landis "as a man who has given him the counsel of a father in the past year," a demonstration began.

Belleville City Council Settles With Woman to Avoid $1000 Damage Suit.

The Belleville city council yesterday allowed a claim of $200 made by Miss Frieda Downing for injuries suffered on Aug. 14 when she was attacked by pickets while on her way to work, at the plant of Meyer Parts Co., where a strike was in progress. She charged that the city failed to give her protection and was therefore liable. A damage suit had been threatened by Miss Downing, who showed doctors and dentist bills for injuries.

Robbers Get $5000 From Collector

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 17.—Two armed robbers today held up and robed Joseph Gill, collector for a drug syndicate here, of $5000, and escaped in an automobile.

Believed that practically entire families have been wiped out.

The mine, which has been worked for 16 years, is one of the largest soft coal producing mines in this section of Wyoming. A normal force of 200 men is employed, but the working force was reduced considerably yesterday because of repair work.

Yesterday's disaster at Sublet is the first mining explosion that has taken a heavy toll of life among its residents and workers since 1911. On Aug. 14, 1923, however, a blast entombed more than 100 men in the Frontier mine of the Kemmerer Coal Co., near Kemmerer, taking a toll of 98 dead. Sixteen later were rescued.

One report as to the cause of the explosion is that it was caused when a spark flashed as a tool scraped against the side of a coal car.

ASSESSMENT OF PROPERTY FOR TAXES DISCUSSED

Various Difficulties of This Public Work Reviewed by Speakers at Meeting Here.

EDUCATION URGED AS CHIEF REMEDY

Election or Appointment of Experienced Officers and Keeping Matter Out of Politics Advocated.

Problems of local assessors in arriving at fair and complete assessments of property of all sorts, for taxation purposes, were discussed informally at this morning's session of the National Tax Association convention at Hotel Chase.

Various difficulties of this public work were brought up.

Colman P. Link, a member of the Colorado Tax Commission, presided at the session. In the course of his introductory remarks, he said:

"Owing to tax dodgers, demagogues, cheap politicians, unfair assessors, newspapers and self-seekers, it requires concerted efforts of all decent people to sustain anything like law and order in assessments for taxation. It is our endeavor to keep the important subject of taxation out of politics and bring about the election or appointment of experienced officers."

Seek to Educate People.

"We must constantly work to educate the people on this subject. The National Tax Association has been the greatest agency ever known to educate the people and bring about justice and equality in taxation."

Assessment of farm lands, city property, utility corporations and personal property was taken up by other speakers.

Albert W. Atwood, writer on economic subjects at the Standard Evening Post, declared in an address at the afternoon session that inheritance taxation as a corrective for large fortunes and concentrated wealth does only with results not with causes. He continued:

"The public should realize that when death duties become high enough to relieve the inequalities of wealth, the results, perforce, must be greater than after a flat tax. The son of a bootlegger may pay less on the same sized fortune than the hard-working son of a manufacturer, where both children and son have contributed to the upbuilding of a socially serviceable industry."

Against Extreme Measures.

"Carnegie once said that a man who dies rich is disgraced. What nonsense! If a man accumulates a fortune honorably it is any more disgraceful to die before he can spend it than after it. Why must we suffer so from hypocrisy and sheer bunk in discussing these questions? Every so-called reformer, progressive and radical shouts for heavy taxes on large fortunes, but as though we did not have them now, running up to 40 per cent. The La Follette platform advocates such taxes as though it were suggesting something new!"

"There has never been a speech made in any Congress or State Legislature in favor of extreme inheritance tax rates that did not quote Andrew Carnegie in their support. Yet every man, woman and child knows that Carnegie gave away $250,000,000 with the result, I do not say with the intention, that not one cent of either income or inheritance tax was paid on that sum. Nor will any tax ever be paid on the $100,000,000 which Rockefeller has given away."

"Extreme measures defeat themselves. The rich man is being educated to allocate an increasing share of his income as a reserve against inheritance taxes. For with rates up to 40 per cent as at present, it becomes a capital tax during life, as well as a death tax. More and more men of means are getting out of tax-exempt securities. All the normal plans of such men are being distorted and shifted to meet this situation. More and more death taxes are cutting down the number of men who are successful. Is such a policy wholly wise?"

25,000 IN LEGION PARADE AT ST. PAUL CONVENTION

Tonight, 18 Chaplains and Band of 3000 Pieces Will Take Part in Public Wedding.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Sept. 17.—More than 25,000 members of the American Legion marched in the parade incident to the national convention of the order here last night. Troops of the order here last night. Troops of the order here last night.

An invitation to take a place in the reviewing stand opposite Minnesota's State Capitol was declined because, he said, "The Legion is a non-political organization and far be it from me to do anything that might injure politics in this city."

An elaborate fireworks display at the State fair grounds and a public wedding there will share interest with the boxing card at the Auditorium in tonight's entertainment.

The bride will be Miss Ruth Masters of Turman, Minn., and the bridegroom, Erling Maine of Winnebago, Minn. Eighteen chaplains of the Legion will take part in the ceremony and a band of more than 3000 pieces will play the wedding march. This afternoon the bride-to-be will fly over the city in an airship, distributing invitations to the wedding.

Omaha was selected as the 1925 national convention city at today's session. The unofficial vote was: Omaha, 304, and Fort Worth, 453.

Details of Indiana Plan.

If local officials do not heed taxpayers' objections to their budget, the taxpayer may have petition through the State Auditor for review of the budget and tax rate by the State board. The board then must hold its hearing in the county affected, and approve or reduce the tax rate, but cannot order an increase. Its action is final.

TWO MEN ADMIT THEY WERE HIRED TO KILL FARMER

comment upon being told of the killing, Landert said, was "All right."

"I'm glad I told you," Landert is quoted as saying after his confession. "I feel better."

Wernli's confession, which the Sheriff said, tallied with that of Landert, came after Landert had implicated him in Wernli's presence. As the men had been kept in separate cells and questioned separately, neither knew what the other had told until Landert was brought into the room where the interrogation of Wernli was in progress. Upon learning of Landert's confession, Wernli abandoned his story of denial and re-marked, "Well, I guess we might as well tell it." Throughout the confession Landert appeared only slightly concerned, but Wernli exhibited deep depression and repeatedly expressed concern as to what would become of his wife and baby. Fricker is married.

After leaving Fricker's employment, Mrs. Nungesser brought court action to compel him to pay her the $1500 in back wages she alleged was due, and an agreement was reached whereby he was to pay the amount in monthly installments. Recently, she said, she had experienced trouble in making these collections.

Widow Hounded 13 Years.

Mrs. Nungesser today related a story of 13 years of hounding by Fricker, who, she said, wanted her to live on his farm. She began working for him when she was 15 years old, according to her story and remained in his employment until her marriage to Nungesser two years ago, milking cows, churning and performing other chores about the farm in addition to helping with the housework.

On one occasion, she said, when she went back to Fricker's home after her marriage to get her wages, she was held a prisoner for three days by the farmer, who declared he would never let her return to her husband. She escaped, she said, by stealing out of the house in the night.

Nungesser was the second husband of the woman to meet a violent death. Fricker was angry, she said, when she married Robert Kehrl. It is farm hand, in April, 1920, and a month later Kehrl was found shot to death in a field. As a discharged weapon lay beside his body, his death was held by a coroner's jury to be a suicide.

BANKER GETS 10 TO 15 YEARS

East Peoria Cashier Made Loans Without Superior's Knowledge.

By the Associated Press.
PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 17.—John M. Speers, charged with embezzling $150,000 of the funds of the First National Bank at East Peoria, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve an indeterminate sentence of one to ten years in the State Prison. Speers is 44 years old.

The cashier made large loans to Edward Swanson, head of an oil company here, without the knowledge of the other bank officers. Swanson disappeared after involuntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed. Stockholders and directors of the bank have made up the shortage and the bank was today opened for business.

YOUNG PLEASED WITH DAWES PLAN WORKING

Reports to Reparations Commission He Has Not Single Reproach; Payments Prompt.

Copyright, 1924, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—The report which Owen D. Young presented to the Reparations Commission yesterday recounting his progress toward putting the Dawes plan machinery in motion in Berlin, was considered most gratifying.

The temporary Agent General for reparations payments is pleased with the manner in which every body is collaborating in the work. On the part of the German Government, he said, he has encountered nothing but good will, and he has absolutely no reproach to make. He is particularly pleased with the promptitude of the French authorities in carrying out their engagements and in promoting the success of the preliminary operations.

Receipts From the Ruhr.

Young already has received the sum of 14,600,000 paper francs ($2,900,000) which is the amount of the Ruhr receipts collected by France during the first 10 days of September, less 2,000,000 gold marks remaining expenses. The total Reich receipts were 5,300,000 gold marks, or $1,273,000.

The net sum of nearly 15,000,000 paper francs ($2,900,000) has been placed to Young's credit in banks of the Ruhr specified by him. In order to accomplish this the French were compelled to utilize money previously accumulated. The receipts of the second 10 days of September will be paid to Young without deduction, the 2,000,000 gold marks already mentioned being the expenses of the whole month.

To Fix Coal Prices.

Young announced yesterday that the Reparations Commission, displaying equal promptitude, had promised to fix coal prices before Oct. 1 so the Agent-General may be enabled to credit Germany with the correct amounts on the drafts by the producers, which are countersigned by the government, receiving shipments. This will be the first time in five years that the Reparations Commission has fixed these prices.

In general, Young said, Dawes plan machinery is working better than he could have expected and is encountering no obstruction from any quarter.

PAROLED YOUTH IDENTIFIED AS A HIGHWAYMAN

Leonard Byington Recently Released From Reformatory, Accused of Holding Up Merchant.

Leonard Byington, 18 years old, who was paroled from Boonville Reformatory on Aug. 29, last, to Deputy Sheriff Edward J. Romacher, after serving since Sept. 12, 1923, a year and a half sentence for highway robbery, is under arrest again and has been identified as a highwayman.

At 11 o'clock Monday night Michael George closed his confectionery at 1325 South Thirteenth and started to walk to his home at 1837 Hickory street. A youth with an automatic pistol stopped him at the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Hickory and robbed him of $15.

Asked to describe the robber, George remembered that he had very black eyebrows and wore a brown suit. Capt. Kirk of the South Street District, who had questioned Byington Sunday and released him after he had been taken in the police roundup of suspicious characters, recalled that Byington had such eyebrows and wore such a suit. Byington was rearrested and identified by George.

Second Youth Suspected.

A young man who entered George's store shortly before the street holdup, borrowed paper to wrap up an automatic pistol and inquired whether George had done much business, also is being held, as George thinks this youth sat on a curbstone while the one whom he has identified as Byington, held him up. The suspect denies this.

Byington and four other youths, all between 16 and 19 years of age, were arrested Aug. 29, 1923, when found in an automobile which had been taken from a party in Carondelet Park. The prisoners made confessions covering 10 robberies, in one of which William Guerk, proprietor of a delicatessen shop at 2514 Junata street, had been shot. Byington previous to his arrest, had violated the terms of a parole from Bellefontaine Farms.

Deputy Sheriff Romacher, who is employed at the Courthouse, obtained a parole for Byington by application to the Juvenile Court here, at the request of Byington's family. "I thought that kid was going straight," Romacher said today. "If he hasn't, then my faith in human beings has suffered a severe jolt." He added that Byington has been reporting regularly to him, in accordance with the terms of parole.

Know Youth's Parents.

Romacher, who now resides at 2609 St. Vincent avenue, formerly lived at 1444 Park avenue, and knew both Byington and his parents. Byington's address then was 921 Hickory street. He gives his present address as 2408 South Eighteenth street.

Byington and his associates in the series of robberies were known as "Cuckoo Juniors," as their meeting place was at Eighth and Hickory streets. In the neighborhood infested by Cuckoo gangsters.

STOMACH LIKE HARDWARE BIN

Operation Reveals Three Pounds of Metal Gird Swallowed.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 17.—From the stomach of a 15-year-old Saginaw girl surgeons at a local hospital yesterday removed hundreds of small articles—a mass weighing 3 pounds and 14 ounces. Articles found included bolts, safety pins, earrings, watch chains, coins, metal street car tickets, brooches, nails, adhesive tape, ribbons, laces, sewing-machine bobbins and buttons.

The girl is not expected to live. Her parents said the girl had shown few symptoms of stomach trouble. Six years ago, according to the chairman, she became subject to attacks of nausea, which increased in frequency. Examination Monday revealed a large lump in the stomach and an operation was decided upon. The surgeons were amazed at the metal cache.

CHAIRMAN TELLS HOW TAX APPEAL BOARD OPERATES

C. D. Hamel Explains to Accountants Functioning of New Body for Internal Revenue Complaints.

How the new United States Board of Tax Appeals functions to give Federal taxpayers an impartial tribunal of appeal was explained by its chairman, C. D. Hamel, of Washington, D. C., before the American Institute of Accountants, at Hotel Chase, today. Hamel has been head of the board since it was organized two months ago under the revenue act of 1924.

Members of the board—there are 12 now, but this number may be increased to 28—are appointed by the President. The board hears appeals from rulings of the Internal Revenue Bureau on income, excess profits and gift taxes. Formerly, appeals from rulings of Revenue Bureau officials had to be made to the commissioner at the head of the bureau, or his subordinates. Then the Judge of the appeal was also advocate for the Government.

Formerly, the taxpayer could not take his case to court until after he had paid the protested tax. If the appeal to the board was successful, the taxpayer went against him. Creation of the Board of Tax Appeals changes that. The board hears both the Government and the taxpayer. The Internal Revenue Bureau may sue in court for amounts claimed in excess of board awards. Chairman Hamel explained, so that the board is not tempted to give a decision in favor of the Government in a close case in order to force the issue into court.

Is Judicial Tribunal.

President Coolidge appointed the present members of the board July 3 last. "They were chosen from all parts of the country and on the basis of their qualifications for office," Hamel said. On July 16, the board organized and, by July 28, promulgated rules of practice to be followed before it, rules which make it, in effect, a judicial tribunal of limited jurisdiction.

The first appeal was filed July 30 and decided Aug. 27. Up to Sept. 11, 160 appeals had been filed, 38 of them brought to issue and five heard. The board has decided that it has no jurisdiction over claims for refunds.

"The Commissioner of Internal Revenue," said Hamel, "may sue in court for collection of the tax, in which case the findings of the board are prima facie evidence of the facts found. This constitutes a method of appeal by the commissioner from the determination of the board. The taxpayer has a similar method of appeal by paying such taxes as the board determines to be proper and suing to recover them."

Hearings before the board are public and the evidence is open to public inspection. Witnesses are heard and, if necessary, compelled, by subpoena, to testify; oaths are administered, documents introduced in evidence and depositions taken.

Board May Be Divided.

The chairman may divide the board into divisions, which may sit any place in the United States

WHEELER SCENTS PLOT FOR "BLACKMAIL SUIT" IN OHIO

Montana Senator Says Burns, Daugherty and Others Have Conspired Against Him.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17.—In a statement that he expected to be made the object of civil litigation in Ohio, arising out of his political positions and declarations, was issued here today by Senator Wheeler of Montana, vice presidential candidate on the La Follette ticket, immediately after his arrival in the city for the beginning of a three-day campaign tour through Ohio. The nature of the process he expected to face was not indicated except that he named former Attorney-General Daugherty, and the Republican National Committee, and declared that "both Mrs. Wheeler and I are wondering what the Ohio gang expects to start while we are here."

Senator Wheeler, who acted as prosecutor for the Senate Committee which investigated Daugherty, also mentioned in his statement Blaine, a former associate of Wheeler and George Lockwood, former secretary of the Republican National Committee, and the Burns Detective Agency.

"We have been informed that agents of the Burns Detective Agency, with Burns, Daugherty and the Republican organization, intend to have a suit started against me when I reach Columbus, a suit for damages which every lawyer in Montana and the Northwest refused to handle, when an attempt was made to blackmail me two years ago during my campaign for the Senate," the statement declared.

"I refused then to be held up, and I shall refuse now. I serve notice that it will take more than injunctions, blackmail and framed-up indictments to stop me from doing my duty as a citizen. I shall go to the office of the crooked Republican officials who are undermining the faith of the people in their Government."

Then, once last summer, Mrs. Ward, an unmarried sister to whom she had introduced Owens, and the dentist, took a ride in the latter's car. Ward objected to this, Mrs. Ward said. A short time later Owens left the city for his vacation, and Ward permitted him to leave his coupe at the Ward residence for Mrs. Ward's use, she said. And later, Mrs. Ward contended, her husband, became disturbed over this.

Monday evening Mrs. Ward and her daughter were waiting at Delmar boulevard and Hamilton avenue for a street car which would take them home, said Mrs. Ward, when Owens passed in his car. He drove them home, and after they had entered the car, Mrs. Ward said, she saw her husband, who had seen them, asked her if she had got out of Owens' machine. When she answered affirmatively, Ward drove after him. The altercation followed.

Arthur Zachritz, Ward's attorney, stated that Ward had warned Owens not to see Mrs. Ward, and that the fight started when Owens struck at Ward, after Ward had spoken to him.

Time and places of meeting of the board and divisions shall be set with a view to giving taxpayers reasonable opportunity to appear with as little inconvenience and expense as possible. However, it is now contemplated that divisions shall be established away from Washington permanently; instead, they will make circuits. The reason for this, Hamel pointed out, lies in the fact that a decision of a division becomes the decision of the board, unless the chairman directs a review by the board within 30 days.

The docket, so far, has not required hearing away from Washington, but divisions may be set out by Dec. 1. The board is treading on new ground, but all the members realize the magnitude and importance of their task, the chairman declared. He asked for a tolerant attitude toward it in its infancy, adding that "it has so far not had sufficient experience to determine whether or not its existence is justified."

DENTIST'S NOSE IS BROKEN IN FIST FIGHT

Both He and Salesman Must Appear in Police Court on Peace Disturbance Charge.

An irate and perturbed husband, and a dentist with his nose fractured, his eye bruised and his lip lacerated are docketed to appear in Police Court next Wednesday. For the troubled husband and the injured dentist had a fist fight in front of 5568 Page boulevard Monday night, because a few moments before the husband had seen his wife and 9-year-old daughter get out of the dentist's automobile. The husband is Ray G. Ward, 23 years old, a salesman, of 1253 Amherst place, and the dentist is Noble Owens, 29 years old, of 2620 Bond avenue, East St. Louis.

Mrs. Ward told a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday that the trouble was entirely due to her husband's "unfounded jealousy and quick temper." She has known Owens for several years, she said, and her husband also has known him. A few months ago he boarded at the home for about three weeks. It was at that time that Ward first became jealous, Mrs. Ward declared.

Then, once last summer, Mrs. Ward, an unmarried sister to whom she had introduced Owens, and the dentist, took a ride in the latter's car. Ward objected to this, Mrs. Ward said. A short time later Owens left the city for his vacation, and Ward permitted him to leave his coupe at the Ward residence for Mrs. Ward's use, she said. CAMPAIGN THUS FAR INDECISIVE, SAYS SHAVER

Democratic Chairman Declares No Presidential Candidate Would Win if Election Were Held Now.

UNCERTAIN AS TO LA FOLLETTE VOTE

Says He Is Satisfied With Progress of Campaign—Democrats Count on Border States.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—“If the election were held today no candidate would have a majority in the electoral college,” declared Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, last night.

“I know that is a most unusual thing for you to hear at this time,” he said with a laugh, as reporters who were interviewing him looked up incredulously. “But you asked me a question and I am giving you the best answer I can from my information.”

Chairman Shaver, who was about to depart for Chicago to consult the Mid-Western managers of the Davis-Bryan campaign, said he did not believe the people wanted to be fed with the usual “fool predictions” which emanate from headquarters. He had been asked how he thought the Democratic campaign was progressing, and when he answered that he was satisfied with the reports he had received from district directors in the several sections of the country, he was asked:

“What is your best judgment, based on your information, as to the situation at present?”

He replied that if the election were held this week, instead of on Nov. 4, there would be no decisive result, but that Congress would be called on to select the President and Vice President.

Chairman Shaver was asked to elaborate.

“I can’t do that,” he said, “without making statements that might be misunderstood.

Strength of La Follette. “There is no doubt of the strength of the La Follette-Wheeler movement in certain states, and whether this movement will grow or decline is a contingency that cannot be determined, but which must be considered. So far as we can ascertain, it is cutting into the Republican vote in the States President Coolidge must carry to be sure of election.”

“There are various estimates of the La Follette strength in the electoral college,” Shaver was reminded, “and some of them run above 70 votes; is this too high in your judgment?”

“Not if the election were held today,” he said.

The interview probably was the frankest statement a campaign manager ever made for publication. He summed up by declaring:

“Maybe some people will think it is foolish to tell the public the truth, but I have found it pays. Claiming everything doesn’t bring you anything, and I never got in the habit of deceiving either myself or other people. What I have said is my best judgment, based on reports.”

An analysis of the presidential situation indicates that Shaver’s observation squares with that of students of politics.

How Democrats View Situation. The Democrats believe the block of votes in the solid South which are conceded to Davis gives him an advantage over President Coolidge that will be insurmountable in the election. They also regard Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland and West Virginia as almost certain to go Democratic. Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey and New York they believe are doubtful, although inclined to Coolidge at present.

“What about Illinois?” Shaver was asked.

“I am not making any fool predictions,” he said, “but in that State, with its 29 electoral votes, we have the same condition that exists in Wisconsin, which is wedded to La Follette. This La Follette is a blood vote as well as a political vote.”

He explained that he regarded the 700,000 German sympathizers in Illinois as irrevocably committed to the Wisconsin Senator, but declined to be drawn into a discussion as to the other doubtful states.

Friend of “Jimmy” Murphy Ends Life.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—E. C. Cheney, a friend of “Jimmy” Murphy, noted automobile race driver, killed in the East a few days ago, committed suicide by shooting himself last night while in his room in a downtown hotel. Hotel employees said he had been brooding over the death of his friend and could advance no other reason for the act. Cheney was a salesman and his home was at Decatur, Ill.

ROBBED BANKS 31 YEARS; 'BUMPED' OFF IN SMALL BURG

Thomas J. Tracy, Formerly of St. Louis, Killed in Little Town by Member of Posse.

STARTED CAREER WHEN 17 YEARS OLD

Relatives Here Unaware of His Activities; on Visits He Posed as Cattle Dealer.

When Thomas J. Tracy, formerly a resident of St. Louis, was mortally wounded by a posse member while attempting to rob the American State Bank at Bushnell, Neb., he went to his death with one regret. That was that after robbing banks for 31 years in the wildest of wild west towns he had got "bumped off in so small a burg as Bushnell."

It was a ruthless blow to his pride. And to make his last moments more depressing was the knowledge that the shot, which was to be fatal, was fired, not by a desperado "Bat" Masterson, but an ordinary citizen who was to get $350 reward from the State Bankers' Association for doing it.

Started at 17. With his head and body covered with scars which he said were marks of previous encounters, Tracy turned his face to the wall in humiliation and died in a hospital at Kimball, Neb., Aug. 12. He was 48 years old and boasted that he engaged upon a bank robber's career at 17. He gave his name as Tillman and it was not until after his death that his identity was established.

His identification as Tracy resulted from a letter, found in his pocket, which disclosed his real name and that of a sister in St. Louis. The sister was notified and claimed the body. It was brought here and buried Aug. 20. Word of the manner of Tracy's death, and the fact that he had lived most of his life as a bank robber, came as a surprise to his mother and several sisters and brothers living in St. Louis. He left here as a boy, they said, going West to seek his fortune, and nothing was heard of him until 10 years ago, when he wrote to a sister from Denver. Since that time he had corresponded regularly with members of the family, receiving his mail by general delivery at Denver or Butte, Mont., and had made several visits here, the last in May, 1923.

Often Visited Here. According to one sister, to whom he wrote and paid visits most often, he represented himself as a cattle dealer, and the family believed him to be well off, although he never spent money lavishly. He was sober and gentlemanly in his behavior, she said, and spent the entire period of his visits here with his relatives, none of whom even suspected he had ever been arrested. His last letter, written on local stationery and sent from Denver by air mail, arrived on Aug. 11, inquired as to the health of his sister and conveyed his love to his mother.

Tracy, who appeared to have been the leader in the attempted bank holdup at Bushnell, was shot by Arlo Baker in making his getaway. Two alleged companions, who gave their names as Robert Kelly and George Harris, were afterwards captured and are being held for trial in October. Both deny acquaintance with Tracy or with each other, but both have been identified as men who were in the robber car when it stopped at a filling station for gasoline the night before the attempted hold-up.

The Sheriff's office at Kimball is investigating a theory that these men also are from St. Louis.

ROBBERY CASE WITNESS SHOT BY ASSASSINS, DIES

Felix J. Jezierski, Saloon Keeper, Was Fired On When Riding in Auto on Cass Near Garrison.

Felix J. Jezierski, 44 years old, saloon keeper at Twentieth street and Cass avenue, died today at city hospital of bullet wounds suffered early Monday at the hands of unknown assassins, who poured a fusillade of shots into an automobile in which he was riding.

At no time did he regain sufficient consciousness to give his version of the attack or throw any light on the identity of his assailants.

Detectives in their investigation have only the statement of James Keating of 2616 Sheridan avenue, in whose Ford coupe the barkeeper was shot. Keating, who suffered minor gunshot wounds, said he was driving west on Cass avenue, near Garrison, when a dark touring car, occupied by several men, crowded him to the curb, and the occupants fired a brief volley with shotguns and revolvers. No one else saw the shooting.

Was Witness in Robbery Case.
The detectives have tried to connect the murder with the shooting of George E. Leonard, 21, who was killed by Jezierski's bartender, Joseph Terney, Jr., in an attempted holdup of the saloon Sept. 2. The barkeeper was to have appeared in court the day he was shot as a witness against James Casey, 21, alleged accomplice of Leonard. After the shooting Casey was arrested, but he denied any knowledge of the attack and Keating could not identify him.

A brother of Leonard and an intimate friend of Frank J. Wendt, who was killed by Jezierski, Sept. 2, 1933, in an attempted holdup of the bar, were also brought before Keating, but he declared it was too dark at the time of the attack for him to identify anyone.

Jezierski operated his saloon under the name of "Philip J. Brandt," which he had adopted for convenience. His place was frequented by gangsters and police characters, the police say, and Leonard and Casey, who were known to the barkeeper, both had records of many arrests.

Did See Leonard Shooting.
The barkeeper did not see the shooting of Leonard, but identified Casey as the companion of Leonard when a holdup was threatened earlier in the evening. Casey has denied any part in either the saloon holdup or the murder of Jezierski.

BOY SAYS HE SOUGHT FAME BY SETTING FOREST FIRES

Grandson of Veteran Forest Ranger, After Wounding Self, Confesses to Federal Agents.

YEAHDWOOD, S. D., Sept. 17.—Fired with a desire to win admiration for his daring in discovering and fighting forest fires, Alva Smith, 16 years old, grandson of a veteran forest ranger in the Boulder Park here, saw most of all the series of fires which have destroyed acres of timber in the region in the last fortnight, according to a confession made by him to federal officials here, mounted, they obtained from the lad yesterday.

Smith rode to his grandfather's cabin with a bullet wound in his left thigh and declared that he had discovered a fire on his way to school. He jumped from his horse, he said, and was engaged in putting it out when a stranger rode up and shot him without warning.

Robert Duthie, Forest Supervisor, and State's Attorney Barker, questioned Smith after doctors had examined the wound and declared that it was obviously self-inflicted. The boy admitted, officials said, that he had set all but two of the series of disastrous fires which have done heavy damage to the valuable timber land.

GIRL SOUNDS FALSE FIRE ALARM ON CHUMS' DARE
Disappeared With Companions Before Firemen Arrive at Tower Grove Viaduct.

Four fire companies were rushed to the viaduct at Vandeventer and Tower Grove avenues at 8:30 o'clock last night, when an alarm sounded from the box there. Only the smoke from passing locomotives greeted them.

Inquiry in the vicinity by firemen and police disclosed that three girls, one about 16 years old, dressed in a white sweater, and with bobbed hair, had caused all the excitement.

"The other girls dared her to pull the hook and she said she wouldn't take a dare," the police were told.

CHINESE BATTLE ON 100-MILE FRONT

Civil War Apparently Spreading—Forces of Manchurian War Lord Involved.

By the Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, Sept. 17.—Renewed evidence of the spread of China's sectional civil war to the Manchurian-Chihli front were contained in reports from Peking, received here yesterday, telling of a battle at Chaoyang, where the forces of Gen. Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian war lord, were said to have clashed with those of Gen. Wu Pei-Fu, military head of the Peking Government.

As the contestants in the Manchurian hostilities are taking sides in the fighting between rival military Governors for possession of Shanghai, military observers expected the opening of hostilities would have a direct effect on the fighting near here.

For the last 36 hours the rival Kiangsu and Chekiang armies have been deadlocked in battles along a front of approximately 100 miles west of Shanghai. Fighting continued throughout the night and the Shanghai volunteer corps was called out when it was believed the firing lines might be drawn closer to the city.

Tientsin reports from Unga, seat of the Mongolian Government, said that a dozen foreign residents—American, British and Danish—were detained there as the result of a political disturbance. The report said that Premier Danzan of Mongolia had been shot by order of the Mongol soviet, which is said to be plotting for the return of Mongolia to China.

Representatives of the British and American Governments at Peking have informed the Chinese central government that they cannot accept a blanket prohibition on travel of their nationals in Kiangsu, Kiangsi, Chekiang and Athwal provinces. The Chinese Government was informed that the British and American representatives were willing to keep nationals only out of areas where actual fighting was in progress.

Wu Pei-Fu at Peking for Military Conference.

By the Associated Press.
PEKING, Sept. 17.—Gen. Wu Pei-Fu arrived here this morning for a general military conference. Coincidentally, it is reported that he who is commander of the Chihli forces, intends to establish headquarters at Langfang in order to be in closer touch with operations in the event of hostilities between Chihli and American forces outside the great wall than as an invasion by him.

JOB ASSESSMENTS WILL ADD $10,000 TO G. O. P. STATE FUND

Collection of Campaign "Contributions" Begun Under Direction of Department Heads.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 17.—The treasurer to be appointed by the chairman and Executive Committee of the Republican State Committee, to solicit funds for the Republican campaign in Missouri, will have about $10,000 to start with, representing the assessment of Republican office holders and department heads of the Hyde administration.

Collection of the assessment for campaign purposes, or "contributions," as they are called, is being completed in the various departments by employees designated for the work by department heads.

The assessments amount to 1 per cent of a year's salary for employees receiving less than $200 a year, and 2 per cent for those receiving more than $200 a year.

Preparations are being made by the campaign publicity work by A. W. Butler, State Oil Inspector, who has been appointed publicity director for the Republicans. At present, the work is being carried on through a sort of private press bureau, maintained in the State Capitol by department heads.

It Seems Like a Miracle to See How Lyko, the Great General Tonic, Puts New Vigor into Weak and Sickly People

From every part of the country reports have come of the amazing benefits brought to run-down men and women by this famous tonic.

Many of these people had suffered for years from conditions which made them practically invalids, incapable of doing a real day's work, others had faulty digestion, constipation, lack of appetite, nervousness, or other ailments which made them feel and look tired, sickly, "down and out."

Now these same people are in splendid health, active, cheerful, full of life and vigor through the bracing, tonic effect of Lyko.

Mitchell Murray, well known throughout Northern Missouri, says that he was so weak
he could hardly walk across the room.
Lyko put him in such condition that his friends and neighbors were surprised at the results.

Causes Conviction for Larceny of Man With Whom Her Boy Ran Away on Fatal Trip.
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A mother's four-year struggle to avenge the death of her son resulted yesterday in the conviction before Judge Mulgrew of General Sessions upon a charge of grand larceny of Raymond E. Tuckerman, scenario writer. In 1932, according to the testimony, Tuckerman ran away to Miami with Ralph Johnstone Jr., 15 years old, and with $1000 belonging to Mrs. Tuckerman. The boy's mother tried to have Tuckerman seized for abducting Ralph, and while they were running away from Florida police the boy died of a pistol shot. Mrs. Johnstone sought to have Tuckerman held on a charge of murder, but the Florida courts exonerated him. She could not prove her son had not gone away of his own free will.

Later Mrs. Johnstone induced Tuckerman's wife to have him indicted for grand larceny. A few months ago Mrs. Johnstone learned Tuckerman was at a hotel in this city. Then she had him arrested on the old larceny charge. Mrs.

Tuckerman was a witness against her husband, who will be sentenced next Tuesday.
Negro Is Elected Moderator.
PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 17.—For the first time in the history of the Pittsburgh Presbytery a negro minister has been elected moderator. The Rev. Dr. C. H. Trusty of Grace Memorial Church, was elevated to that position at the fall meeting.

of one and the Mayor having domination in the other. Mrs. Moore has been active in the Republican

SIX SLAIN, 75 WOUNDED ON MEXICO'S INDEPENDENCE DAY

Celebration Marked by Firing of Pistols, Traffic Accidents and Personal Encounters.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 17.—The celebration yesterday of Mexican Independence day passed off quietly as compared with previous years, notwithstanding the fact that the sale of liquor was unrestricted.

A compilation of reports received at police headquarters indicates that there were about 75 persons wounded in indiscriminate firing of pistols, traffic accidents and personal encounters. There were six fatalities.

Because of rain-soaked grounds the scheduled maneuvers were not held in the national stadium in commemoration of the founding,
100 years ago, of the San Jacinto
Military Academy, Mexico's West Point.

Driver Reports Holdup.
Edward Berry, 2817 Warren street, a driver for the Peter Hauptmann Tobacco Co., reported to police he had been held up and robbed of $37 by an armed man near Sarah street and Easton avenue at 3 p. m. yesterday.

DAVIS TO TALK ON TAXATION TONIGHT AT DES MOINES

Western Tour Reveals Democratic Nominee as Effective Orator, With
"Punch" in His Speeches.

TRIP MEANS MUCH INTENSIVE STUDY

Many Who Have Met Candidate Are Agreeably Surprised at His Warmth of Manner.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 17.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, arrived here this morning. He will speak here tonight, and taxation will be one of his main themes.

Democratic leaders of the State and hundreds of citizens welcomed Davis at the railway station and escorted him to State Democratic headquarters, where he planned to open the forenoon in conference with party leaders.

Heading the escort was a band attired in overalls and numerous marchers representing farm and labor organizations. Davis is scheduled to speak before a women's mass meeting at a women's community center this afternoon.

Running for the presidency, as Davis has found, is not a bed of roses. Especially is this true when a candidate goes on a speech-making tour.

Davis is working hard on this trip. When he last made a speech, he is shaking hands with some committee or getting ready for the next speech. He has to do a lot of intensive studying. Having been out of politics for three years before his nomination, he came into the campaign with only a sketchy knowledge of some of the subjects that he has had to discuss.

The farm problem for instance, he is quite sincere when he tells his audiences that he came West to learn at first hand of the farmers' economic plight. That, naturally, is not a subject that he had to deal with as a New York lawyer, or was in much before when he was a Congressman. He has had to "bone up" on the subject.

It is characteristic of him to go to official, verified sources for his information, rather than to rely on newspaper or suggestions from his associates. When he tackled the irrigation and reclamation question, for example, he talked it over with Senator Pittman of Nevada. And other advisers, but he drew his own conclusions from official data.

How He Prepares Speeches.

The speeches that Davis makes on this trip are his own. He might have had them written for him and then dressed them up with a phrase here and there—a common enough practice with political orators and yet altogether indefensible. But such is not the Davis method. He makes his notes for a speech in shorthand, then dictates to a stenographer. Then he takes the typewritten draft and tears it to pieces with his editing. He may revise a speech three or four times before he gets it to suit him. All this means hard, time-consuming work—work that has got to be done in the intervals he can snatch from the other necessary activities of a candidate.

Davis' set speeches read well. The notes in pure, the sentences clear and rhythmic.

But as an orator he is better without manuscript. He has a gift of facile English and a gift, too, of business. He gets his message across to his hearers much more successfully when he talks without apparent preparation. Rarely does he fall of a graceful introduction, and he showed at Cheyenne and Houston, that when he came to his own, he can put "punch" into his words.

Does Not Like "Stunts."

Davis is not the hippodroming "sky-king" type of candidate, the contrary. He intensely dislikes "doing stunts" and only takes on his Western trip to date because he allowed himself to be led into this form of campaigning. The most occasion was at Omaha, where he pitched a ball at the opening of League game, and the second was at Rocky Mountain National Park, where the Boy Scout executives, in a picturesque ceremony, welcomed him to the West by putting a cowboy hat on him and hanging a lasso around his neck. Davis usually couldn't avoid the attention of the exuberant scout leaders. They formed a hollow square, put him in the center, and proceeded to decorate him before he knew it was going on. He submitted himself to the "stunt" without any of those who have been on this trip have expressed surprise at the warmth of his manner. They had been thinking of him

Internal Danger First.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WHEN our War Department shows an inclination to follow in the footsteps of Kaiser Wilhelm, it is time for the people to take notice. These things are always progressive. If allowed to go unchecked, compulsory military service would soon result, and with it, a military machine established after the pattern of the one just crushed in Germany.

For a long time to come we have nothing to fear from a foreign invasion by any nation or combination of nations. The thing to fear is internal trouble, and this internal trouble must inevitably come unless we abolish the primary, go back to the convention system, and fill our offices with better men in both state and national governments.

Ability in our statesmen is not enough; there must be ability combined with character—with every quality that goes to make up the man who cannot be diverted from an honorable purpose, and permitting the people to be exploited directly, is as dishonorable as exploiting them directly. Both of the old parties know that the country is teeming with trusts—that it is honeycombed with all kinds of rascality to fleece the consumer; what are they doing about it? "Suits are instituted," the matter dies out or nominal fines are paid and the exploiting goes on.

The citizen must be safeguarded in enjoying the fruits of his toil, and only the Government can safeguard him. What is wanted is not War Department programs, but a thorough mapping out of the internal situation and the remedy applied. The machinations of the special interests in every field of endeavor with the connivance of the politician is breeding a situation much more formidable than any danger of a foreign invasion. A Flag Missing.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I THINK the city and citizens of St. Louis and all those who participated in the Defense parade on Friday should be highly commended. It was, to my mind, a wonderful sight. I heard many expressions of satisfaction in the small circle where I stood. Such praise as that cannot help but be an uplift to the community. I wish to express my deep satisfaction. But may I ask why the flagpole in the square in front of the Jefferson Memorial does not fly a flag on such occasions? The flag was flying on the Jefferson Memorial, but I should think that pole would raise the flag on that pole on patriotic occasions. E. B. W.

High Cost of Movies.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

AREN'T the higher prices at the "movies" the latest house to raise prices advertised that it was owing to increased cost of the films. The picture shown this week, while very fine, is an old one, the film itself showing hard usage and wear, and it occurred to me to wonder if the company of 20 or more people appearing in what was called a "prologue" (and which in my opinion only detracted from the effect of the beautiful picture) were all working girls. Why does the exhibitor blame the cost of the film for the higher prices, when almost every so-called picture house goes to great expense, almost every week, in hiring extra or side attractions. I believe they could all make money at 50 cents top price if the program consisted of a good feature picture, a short comedy, and a news reel, with perhaps an extra selection by their own excellent orchestra. For my part I would enhance the attractiveness of our beautiful picture houses if they dispensed with what we can all see and hear at the vaudeville shows. B. FAIR.

Light Up!

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WOULD like to know why Castleman, Florida, Fla., Cleveland and Botanical avenues have no lights until 7:15 each evening. When we have gas lights same were lighted hours before dark. Now darkness is on us about 6:45 p. m. and we necessarily have to grope around for 15 minutes every day in darkness. And, worse yet, we have no moon yet. Will you kindly stick a rod under our Light Commissioner, and pull us out of the dark? CASTLEMAN AVENUE.

Davies in Milwaukee.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WHILE we have very ably commented on Mr. Davies' Milwaukee speech, I have failed to see an explanation why his Reception Committee provided a lane of red flags for him and his parade to pass through on the way to the auditorium. To be sure, Milwaukee has a Socialist Mayor, but I have never heard that he uses his office for a meaningless flag-waving, red as well as otherwise. Could it be that the committee meant to convey the idea that if Davies came to St. Louis to preside over the

WHEELER'S FALSE SLOGAN.

Senator Wheeler, with occasional echoes from Senator La Follette, is reiterating with the monotony of a parrot his slogan that there is no difference in this campaign between the Republican and the Democratic candidates, no issues between them, and that both Coolidge and Davis are "Morgan's men."

If Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Davis both are Morgan's men and represent his views and the views of the magnates of business and finance, Mr. Morgan has a varied set of principles and policies. He is in favor of principles and policies so contradictory that we cannot conceive of a mind sufficiently agile and elastic to embrace them.

In his Western tour, which introduced Mr. Davis to the West and the West to Mr. Davis, with benefit to both, Mr. Davis has clearly defined where he stands, and if Mr. Morgan stands with him he is against privilege and governmental favoritism and corruption in any form and is a first-class Democrat.

Mr. Davis opposes the destructive issues in the La Follette-Wheeler platform. He stands for constitutional guarantees and against the Socialistic and paternalistic policies advocated by Senators La Follette and Wheeler, but on all the sound issues of the campaign, the issues of privilege embodied in the tariff of abominations and in the domination of government by big business for special benefits, corruption, graft—all the forms of plutocratic exploitation of the people—Mr. Davis is much nearer to La Follette than to Coolidge. Senator La Follette, leading a Republican revolt against the monstrous abuses of governmental power by the Republican party, and Mr. Davis, leading the Democratic opposition, both are fighting the plutocratic forces supporting Mr. Coolidge.

The issue now, rendered acute again by the riot of favoritism and corruption during the Harding administration, is the one big issue that continually recurs in American politics. It is the issue of the domination of the money power, of the privileged few in control of government, against the interests of the whole people. This was the issue that Jackson fought against the United States Bank, that caused a political revolution in favor of Tilden; that Lincoln fought against the slave-owning aristocracy; that elected Cleveland; that ignominiously defeated Taft for a second term, and that put Wilson into the White House as the champion of the "New Freedom."

Just as Mr. Roosevelt led a revolt of Republican progressives against the mess of privileged plunder under Mr. Taft, so Mr. La Follette is leading a Republican revolt against a similar condition. But Mr. La Follette has gone beyond the foundations of sound reform and real progress. With his solid issues against the administration he is blending Socialistic and destructive policies.

Mr. Davis is the real champion of American progress. He is the constitutional opponent of both the plutocracy of Mr. Coolidge and the Socialism of Mr. La Follette. He is standing for the restoration of equal rights for the whole people, for human liberty, consistent with respect for the rights of all, and for popular sovereignty, which means the control of the Government by the people for the people.

Mr. Davis is not only enlightening the people with regard to the meaning and value of constitutional rights as the only sound basis of just government, but he is attacking vigorously and specifically the menacing and costly departures of the Harding-Coolidge administration from the sound principles of constitutional government. He is directing attention to the costly evils that have crept into government through the domination by privilege and the money power, of legislation, executive action and administrative policies.

Expounding the two theories of government, the Hamiltonian, or plutocratic, which holds that government should be controlled by the rich, the powerful, the well-born, and prosperity filter through to the masses; and the Jeffersonian, or democratic, doctrine of equal rights and privilege to none, by which equal opportunity is secured to all the people, without government favoritism, Mr. Davis points to the mess of corruption in Washington as the natural fruits of favoritism through tariff taxation and other governmental functions.

The relief from the conditions which have existed in Washington under Republican rule, which have not only cost the people billions of dollars for the benefit of the favored few, but have brought humiliation and shame upon the American people on account of corruption, lies not in Mr. La Follette's wild remedies, but in the return to justice and honesty under constitutional free government pledged by Mr. Davis.

If Mr. La Follette could be elected, he would offer some remedies that are worse than the disease from which we are suffering. But he can do nothing. He does not expect to be elected. In the event of Mr. Coolidge's election the Republican party would still be split and helpless. On the other hand, in the event of Mr. Davis' election, he would have a united party, and the majority in Congress agreed at least on the checking of plutocracy and on sound economic reforms.

OUT-OF-STATE VOTERS.

The State Legislature which meets next January should not fail to pass the necessary enabling law to provide for the casting of ballots by voters who may be absent from the State at elections, as provided in the constitutional amendment covering this subject. It was a grievous oversight on the part of the last Legislature not to pass such an act. We need the aid of all our voters, at home and abroad. Time and distance having been conquered in almost all other fields of activity, should no longer be permitted to disfranchise any otherwise qualified citizen.

WAR AND TAXES.

The National Industrial Conference Board finds, after an exhaustive study of tax statistics, that the burden of taxation on industry, using the term in its broadest sense, is three and a half times, in dollars and cents, what it was immediately before the war. In 1921 16.7 per cent of the national income went to the payment of taxes. By 1923, the last year of reckoning, this percentage had been reduced to 11.5. In the same period living costs fell approximately 20 per cent.

As a general principle taxes are passed along to the consumer. Wealth does not suffer visibly. If it feels any curtailment at all its margin is too great to cause hardship or cut off luxuries. It is the poor man in the end who suffers from high taxes. When capital cannot make a certain margin over taxes erage voter. These are curtailment of the current costs of government by more efficiency and less graft, and the erection of institutions to prevent war. The great difference between pre-war and post-war costs of government is the war bill, the interest and sinking funds on war indebtedness. The war of today is the economic burden of tomorrow. A war prevented is the emancipation of a generation.

THE HYDE SCHOOL OF HOKUM.

The business of correcting a schoolmaster in the presence of his pupils is always painful. But in lecturing in his class of Republican campaign orators who are in training at the "political Plattburg" in a local hotel Prof. Arthur M. Hyde made some statements which have circulated far from the confines of the classroom and were made with the purpose of being disseminated to voters throughout the State. It is altogether pertinent to determine whether they are educational or mere propaganda to pervert the channels of intelligence.

Prof. Hyde stated that the Republican party "has written the real treaty of peace for Europe in its Dawes plan." Fact: The Republican party and the Republican administration had nothing to do with the Dawes plan. Dawes happened to be a Republican and Young a Democrat. The Americans were two out of 15 members of the Reparations Commission merely with the approval of the administration, which disavowed all responsibility and refused to take part officially in the project.

Prof. Hyde takes a wallop at the La Follette movement by declaring: "It is doubtful if America could have attained her present status without the two-party system, or through the medium of a multiplicity of parties." But La Follette is doing even less in the direction of establishing a third party than did Lincoln or Roosevelt. Is it Prof. Hyde's idea that these Republicans reduced the American "status" or raised it?

True to the form of the reactionary school, Prof. Hyde undertook to extinguish the La Follette movement with the precious old epithet, "un-American," because, he charged, it is "class action." As Ramsay MacDonald has said: "It is not we who have made the class issue but our opponents." If there is any class struggle in America it has not been made even in part by La Follette but by the money power in Washington. Call it class struggle or what you will (it makes a great difference with Republican spokesmen what you call a thing), if it is un-American for the people to protest by whatever orderly means they choose the domination of plutocratic privilege at Washington, then America is not a republic but a Government of the divine right of wealth.

But Prof. Hyde himself knows this charge is pure hokum and that the Republicans are appealing as zealously for the farm and labor vote as any other party. Is the party cause so weak that it cannot be saved without resort to hokum?

BUNCETON AND ITS LESSON.

The Democratic rally at Bunceton, as a piece of campaign advertising, was a success far exceeding general expectation. It drew a crowd estimated at from 30,000 to 75,000, with hardly a doubt that it was at least around 30,000. It was a tremendous undertaking and had to be handled with efficiency and care else it might displease where the opposite was intended. Persons were there from all over the State. The story of the event, together with Davis' denunciation of Republican misrule, was telegraphed throughout the United States.

The Democrats and Dr. Nelson, the host, are to be congratulated for their aggressiveness in serving the cause of their party and candidates. Their effort may affect the history of Missouri and of the nation. However, on account of the rain, and of the fact that the road to Bunceton is not the best, it served to show up Missouri's dirt roads, at their worst. For whatever reason, intentional or not, the Democratic State platform fails to approve or mention the road amendment to the Constitution, which would hasten by years, and keep down the expense of the State hard-road system. The road issue should be non-partisan and is nonpartisan. Whatever credit the Republicans have won in the launching of the actual State road work has been neutralized by Gov. Hyde's refusal to call a special session of the Legislature to insure uninterrupted continuance of the road-building program.

The road issue is now anybody's field, and it is up to the Democratic candidates to supply in their campaign statements the unfortunate omission in their platform.

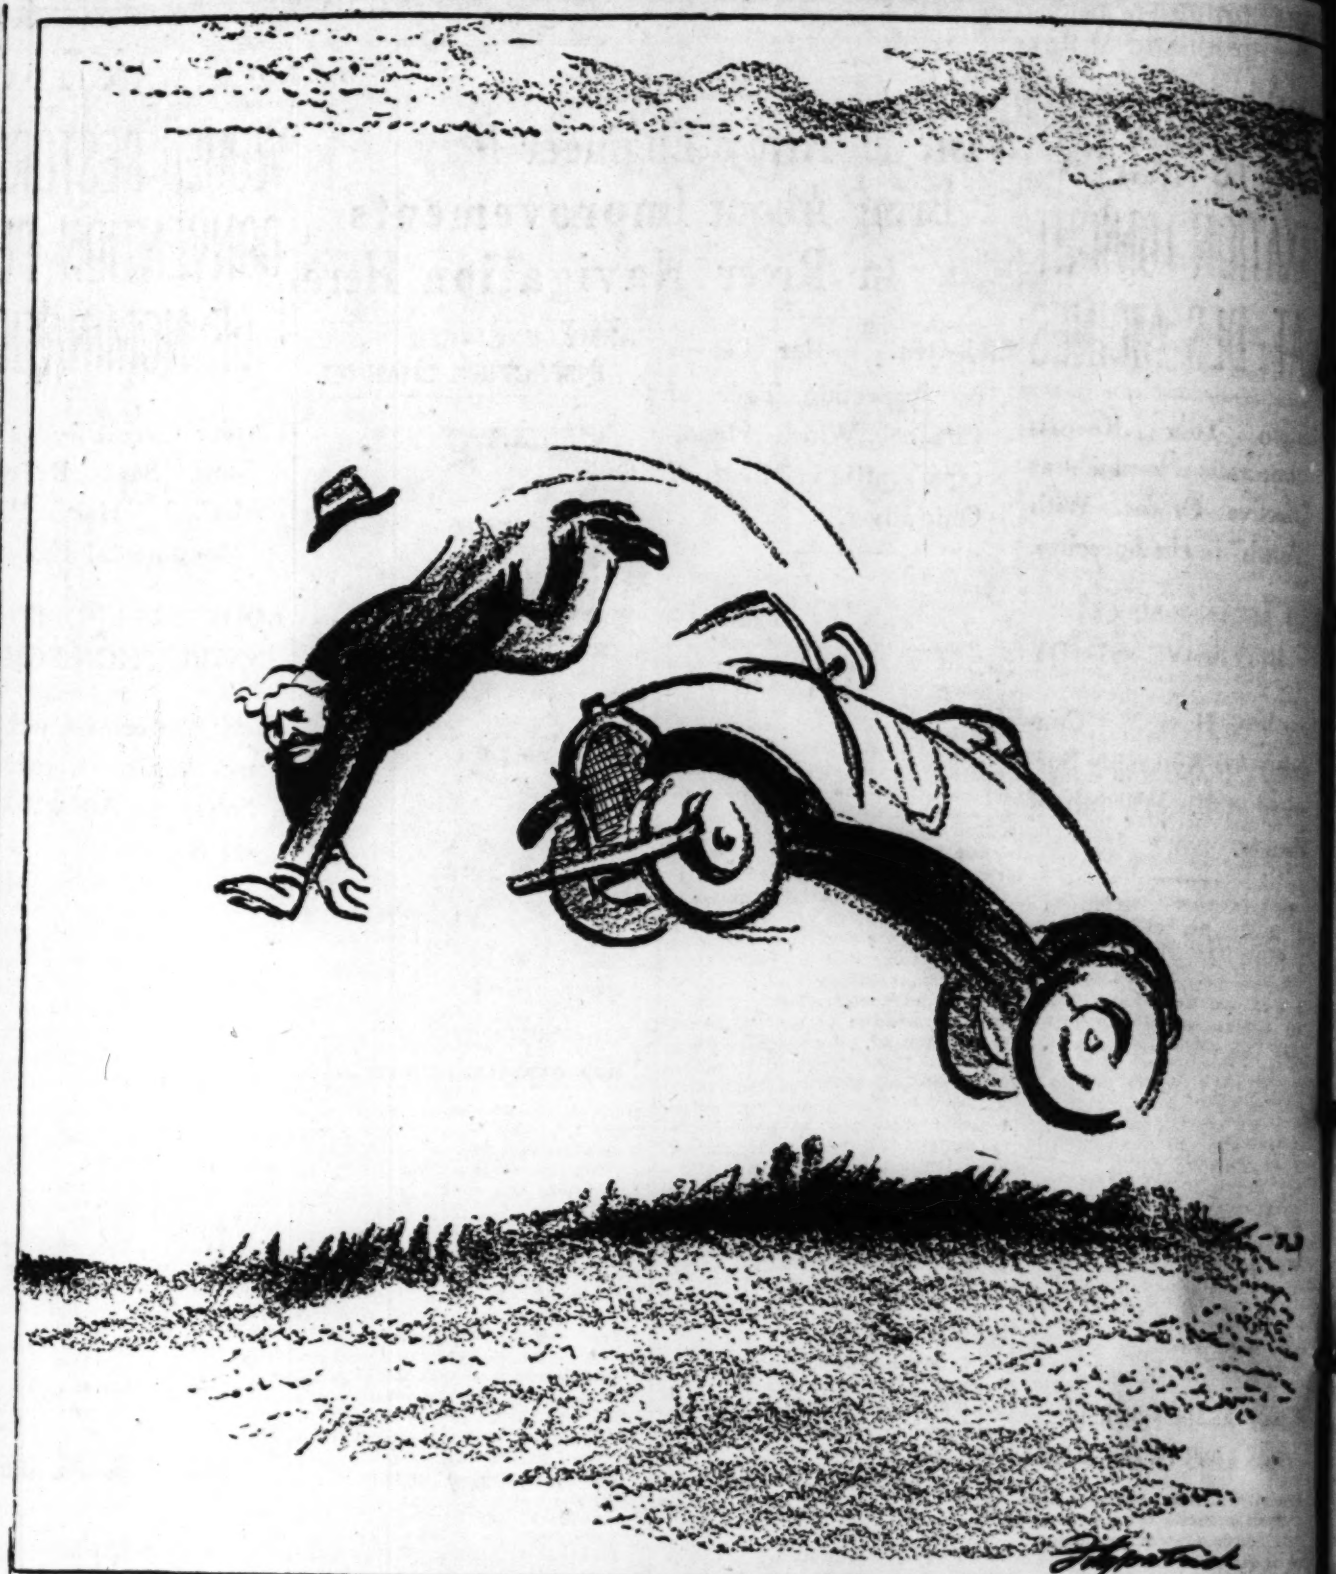

Now that the Wills-Pirpo fight has been fought isn't it possible to give those who tried to stop it a good time stopping something else?

THE RECRUDESCENCE OF THE GALLUS.

Suspenders, otherwise galluses, are said to be coming back. For some years this old-time article of sartorial uplift, or upholding, has been parked in the back corner of the bureau drawer or garaged in the garret. Probably in most instances it has been shipped to the heathen, even to the one-gallus heathen, where one pair of suspenders does double duty. The belt, in supposedly civilized lands, has been on the upholding job until, in the opinion of many men, it has been found wanting.

Thomas Carlyle might write another work of "Sartorial Resurrection" length without explaining in full the ups and downs of men's trousers, otherwise pants. In the heroic struggle to be upheld by means of a leathern surcingle instead of a set of flexible galluses. The topic is well worthy of a prose epic effort. Tragedy and comedy, pathos and sentiment, would combine to build a big time telling the history, natural and unnatural, of the rise and fall of the gallus; and an episode of dignified aspect might be added in celebration of the rearing of the spurred suspender which, after all, would not down.

It is hinted that the doctors have something to do with the reputed recrudescence of the article mentioned. There appears to be a feeling upon the part of the medical profession that it is the business of the shoulders, rather than the hips and the abdominal bulge or bay, to uphold the dignity of the trousers. This evidence is given for what it may be worth, but it may be insinuated that the button manufacturers are particeps criminis, so to speak. Each pair of suspenders requires six pants buttons, and since the belt became a la mode those buttons have disappeared from the upper rim of the garment that must be upheld.

JUST A MINUTE

(Copyright, 1924.)

Written for the Post-Dispatch by CLARE MCADAMS

MR. ANTWERP'S OPINION.

"I can't see what gets into people like Ramsay MacDonald," Mr. Antwerp said. "Here he had the premiership of England and was in a position to do more useful work than any man has accomplished in our time. He could actually make peace in Europe. He could bring Russia back into the world of trade and commerce. He is doing these things, but just when he reaches the height of his usefulness and efficiency it suddenly develops that he accepted an automobile and money with which to maintain it from a rich man to whom he had granted a baronetcy!"

"This recalls the dunderheadedness of Mr. McAdoo. Of all the candidates for the Democratic nomination for President he was the best qualified to differentiate the Democratic party from the Republican party. He had already antagonized the great financial interests by first refusing them, as Secretary of the Treasury, the high rates of interest they wanted on Liberty Bonds, and then, as administrator of railroads, by making the railroad business an aid to the country during the war instead of making the war an opportunity to the railroad business."

"He had the nomination won, and then threw it away by putting himself on the payroll of Doheny and Morse. Not satisfied with political honor, he wanted to make political prestige a stepping stone to wealth. As a result he lost the nomination and got himself off the payroll, too."

"One would imagine that if any one proposed such a thing to a sensible man like Ramsay MacDonald he would have the good sense to boot out of the door the person who suggested it. You might have thought the same thing about Mr. McAdoo."

"But strangely enough, neither man kicked anybody out. Both men fell for a folly so patent that anybody can see it—anybody apparently but someone in a position of great usefulness. Maybe that is the penalty of being greatly useful," Mr. Antwerp said.

A Southerner tells us that cold weather killed off the boll weevil last winter, with the result that there is a big cotton crop in the South. "Also, the price is going down every day. It was about 20 cents this morning, and by the time the cotton is picked it will be 15," he added. Cotton raising is therefore coming North, but money is going in same direction.

Sir: Isn't this new political party sort of like folks putting sugar on their beans and calling 'em berries?"

CONTRIBUTOR.

Sir: A restaurant proprietor at Weatherford, Tex., has this sign over his door:

THE PRIZE OF POOLS

GOLF IN THE BADLANDS

(Spearfish, S. D., Mail.)

There are tricks in all trades, according to an old adage, but it has remained for Osborne Pemberton to solve one little question relative to the game of golf. Osborne is an enthusiastic member of the Spearfish Golf Club, but owing to the fact that he remains at the ranch during the greater part of the summer season, he is unable to train with the local members except occasionally. He arrived in town a few days ago on a brief business mission and took occasion to show the boys how he has improved in the fine arts of the game. He made one of the longest drives ever recorded on the local field, and performed other similar stunts which caused his fellow players to open their eyes and ask questions. Osborne finally admitted that lacking a regulation golf course, he and Mrs. Pemberton play the game on a prairie dog town, using three of the dog holes as the proper place to land the little sphere. He says they have lost a few balls in those holes, but that as a general proposition it is working very nicely.

Sir: To notice a misplaced apostrophe at a distance, one must have fairly good vision. But does it follow that this vision takes in the sign the apostrophe is on, or the building (if any) the sign is on, or the street the building is on? The factors of vision and precise punctuation are marks of refinement, but why be so critical over trivialities?

Some time ago the writer noticed a sign painted across the front of a factory building, neatly spaced, about 40 feet long and two feet high. One of the words was shy one of these two foot letters. A few days later the sign had been respaced and corrected, so that the second attempt was an improvement on the original effort.

A few days since I noticed a sign on a beautiful mansion in West Pine street; a small neat sign which had something to say about the business of the present occupants; the sign, as a sign, is the acme of perfection. But it is an ugly thing—a hideous thing, nevertheless.

It is understood that your department is, primarily a literary and top-wit department. Then why not invite your sign hunters to display their style on large topics, such as, for instance: "What are the factors that make great cities great? Would you consider natural advantages or leadership, the more important, and why? Would you rather live in the largest city or finest city, or both, etc."

Sign hunters and apostrophe hunters, be yourselves. J. H.

PUBLIC OPINION

From the Dallas Dispatch.

THE greatest skill and the greatest genuinity of many branches of science have been used and developed in the new profession has arisen as a result is that of the "movie engineer." He directs the erection of huge structures, constructs miniature scenes in the laboratory and performs all sorts of wonders, through photography, with toy-sized objects and escapes. This engineer has to be so good that he has a good working knowledge of the considerable ingenuity and accuracy with all the "new stuff" of a technical script that applies to his work.

Many shipwrecks, train wrecks and other disasters are pictured with models of toy size. Some things are on a minute scale for large picture suits, while others are done in reality on a large scale, so that it is impossible to stand erect. The shark was made at the bottom of the ocean and a shark—about two feet long. He was a glass cage, just large enough for the shark to swim in. The shark was made look enormous by the way the photographer handled.

A WORD FOR BUSINESS MEN.

EDWARD W. BOK in the World's Work.

IT is a grave misconception, but one of the American business man knows naught but the dollar; his interests begin and end with his office desk; that when he goes to the barter and trade, his mind closes next day. We need only look to the American business man has done an encouragement of the arts in the States to see how such a statement is his idealism and his growing desire to something else into the world than the scraper of business and the like work. They are pioneers for the part, these awakened business men, exceptional method soon becomes accepted method; a luxury is hardly necessary, and so the man who becomes the leader of a company. Nothing is so powerful as an example for good is fully understood as an example for evil. The pioneer soon becomes the highest of people.

W. L. DOUGLAS, SHOE MANUFACTURER, DEAD

Former Governor of Massachusetts Once Was Considered for Presidency.

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, Sept. 17.—William Lewis Douglas, former Governor of Massachusetts, and shoe manufacturer, died at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital here early today.

William Lewis Douglas was the most talked of Democrat in the country when he was elected Governor of Massachusetts in 1904. He had carried the State—then rocked by the greatest political scandal in its history—by one of the biggest pluralities ever given to a party, while, on the same ticket, Roosevelt, Republican nominee for the presidency, polled 30,000 majority. Douglas was the only Democrat elected. Immediately his career sprang to the front as Democratic presidential timber for 1908, but politics was not to engage the manufacturer's attention for long. He refused the persistent pleas of Democrats to seek renomination and re-election when his term as Governor expired, and never sought, or would accept, political office since, although he continued to take an active interest in public affairs as an adviser.

He was born in Plymouth, Mass., in 1845, and, at the age of 5, was left a penniless orphan. He was virtually "brought out" to a relative as a shoe maker at the age of 7. With the exception of two years spent in a cotton mill, after he was 15 years old, Douglas was connected with the manufacture of shoes all his life, rising from "boy" nigger to one of the biggest manufacturers in the world, and from penniless orphan to multi-millionaire. He spent four years in Colorado, from 1865 to 1869, and there saved enough money to establish his first business. He returned from there to Brockton, Mass., where, in later years, were to rise his own big factories.

PRINCE AGAIN PROLONGS HIS LONG ISLAND VACATION

Friendly Crowd Greeted Him at Polo Grounds With Cries for Three Cheers for Him.

By the Associated Press. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 17.—The Prince of Wales is so well pleased with his entertainment on Long Island and with the friendly greeting he received from the polo crowd at Meadowbrook yesterday that he now plans to remain on Long Island until Sunday night. Traveling from Glen Cove to New London, Conn., by yacht, he will there board a special train for High River, Alta., where he will go by motor to his ranch.

The Prince was an enthusiastic spectator of America's polo victory yesterday. The royal guest sitting next to Mrs. R. E. Strawbridge Sr. of Philadelphia, in his private box, laughed and jumped gleefully.

Now when he smoked a cigarette, and once bent down to shield a match from the wind while he held a light for Mrs. Strawbridge's cigarette. During the interval between the fourth and fifth chukkers, the Prince walked to the south end of the field to meet that British play. He talked with them earnestly and apparently helped to speed them to their renewed drive in the last half of the game. On his way back he lifted his hat several times in recognition of the applause largely by gloved feminine hands. The Prince's smiling look part in the ceremony of handing the great silver polo cup back to America and was immediately surrounded and followed for a quarter of a mile across the polo grounds by a dense, pushing, shimmering crowd of men and women. There were cries of "Three cheers for the Prince."

PARIS AND DAVIS SIT TOGETHER FOR DOCKET

Many Cases Set for Trial—Defendants Crowd Federal Courtroom.

Federal Judges Paris and Davis sat together today for the call of the docket for the September term. All bonds in criminal cases were made returnable today, as a result of which the courtroom and corridor adjoining was crowded with defendants.

There are 864 cases on the docket for the term, the largest number in the history of this Federal district. The cases are divided as follows: 441 criminal, 298 law and 125 equity.

Many Narcotic Cases. The docket is so heavy that the judges determined dates for trials without consulting lawyers either for the Government or for the defense. A majority of the criminal cases charge violation of the Volstead or Harrison antinarcotic acts.

One of the cases set for the term is the "beer protection case" in which former State Pure Food and Drug Inspector Charles S. Weather, former State Labor Commissioner Heber Nations and Ray Grzeschick, president of the Grzeschick Bros. Brewing Co., were indicted last spring for alleged conspiracy. The case was set for Jan. 1.

Mail Truck Robbery. Another is the case of the daring robbery of an armored mail truck at Fourth and Locust streets, April 1, 1924, in which more than $250,000 in negotiable securities were stolen and which resulted in indictment of 18 persons, including William P. Colbeck, Fifth Ward member of the Democratic City Committee and political leader of the Egan gang. This case was set for trial Oct. 2.

Still another case is that of the "milking" of $92 barrels of whisky, worth $1,800,000 at drug store prices, from the Jack Daniel bonded warehouse, 3360 Duncan avenue, in the summer of 1923, which resulted in indictment of 17 persons, including George Remus, millionaire bootlegger convict, and William J. Kinney, Deputy Internal Revenue Collector.

DATA ON SMOKE ABATEMENT

Detailed Study in Public Library Bulletin.

The August-September Monthly Bulletin of the St. Louis Public Library is devoted to a detailed study by Lucius H. Cannon, librarian of the Municipal Reference Library, of the police power of communities to abate smoke.

The treatise deals with laws, ordinances, court decisions and historical facts relative to smoke regulation in numerous American cities, including St. Louis, and also some foreign smoke abatement affairs.

The bulletin may be obtained from the library or the municipal reference branch, which is in City Hall, for 50 cents.

TEACHERS THANK MADDOX

Efforts to Obtain Salary Increases Commended.

The Grade Teachers' Association has passed a resolution thanking Superintendent of Instruction Maddox for his effort to obtain an increase in salary for the city's grade and kindergarten instructors. The proposal was recently rejected by the Board of Education.

The teachers, in their resolution, contend that the proposed increase would have given "substantial and satisfactory aid to the teachers in general," and request the proposed schedule be again given consideration in the future.

HILL INVITES ARREST FOR MAKING 2.75 PCT. CIDER

Congressman Writes to Haynes That Alternative Will Be Summons to Aid Beer Bills.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17.—Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes must either arrest Representative John Philip Hill for making 2.75 per cent cider, or admit that 2.75 per cent cider and beer is legal. Hill declared in a letter written to the Commissioner yesterday.

If Haynes does not have him arrested, Hill wrote, he will force him to testify before a Congressional committee in support of the 2.75 per cent beer bills introduced at the last session. The contention of Hill is that the Volstead Act was not intended to interfere with farmers who make home-made wine and cider, since the limit of legal alcohol strength of such beverages is not fixed.

The Congressman declared that if the farmer may make 2.75 per cent cider the city man should be allowed to make 2.75 per cent beer. To force the issue, he made home-made wine last year, but though a temporary injunction against him was granted, the case has not yet been called. It was to press this question that Hill this fall set up a cider-making plant in his apple orchard.

Fewer German Bankruptcies.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—One of the early beneficial effects attributed to the Dawes reparation plan on the German business situation is reflected in the decreasing number of bankruptcies and receiverships, which reached startling proportions in early midsummer. The number of bankruptcies officially reported during July totaled 1123, while in August only 895 were reported, and there was a decline of more than 50 per cent in the number of receiverships during the same period.

LETTER TO SLAIN GIRL HINTS AT SUICIDE PACT

Missive Signed With Initials of Farmhand Suspect Found in Abandoned Cellar.

By the Associated Press.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 17.—That a suicide pact was planned by 15-year-old Elizabeth Johnson, whose body was found near Carnegie Lake, Princeton, Sunday, and Harvey Selhaver, farm hand, discharged by the girl's father and now sought by police, was indicated in the fragments of a letter which police found scattered over the floor of an abandoned cellar, 75 feet from the spot where the girl's body lay.

"My Dear Precious Darling" is the salutation of the letter, which is signed "Your broken hearted lover, H. S." Those fragments which have been pieced together read, "I am very sad. Just to think that in two days more I will have to put you from my love. I cannot do it."

"It seems to me that the only way out is that which you suggested on the porch last night. If we cannot live together in life let us part together in death."

"Tell me the time and place you will meet me and give me the key back. Please destroy this letter."

Part of a theatrical magazine, with the girl's name written on the cover, a Pennsylvania Railroad time table and a cartridge box which had contained .22 caliber shells, were found in the cellar.

Woman Tells of Hearing Screams and Shots Near Scene.

By Leased Wire From the New York Times.
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Detectives of Middlesex County, New Jersey, today turned all efforts to the task of finding Harvey Selhaver, formerly of Spencer, Ia., in connection with the murder of Elizabeth Johnson Selhaver, who appeared to harbor an almost fanatical attachment to the girl, was dismissed from employment on the farm of the girl's father, one week prior to her disappearance.

State troopers working on the case said a warrant for Selhaver's arrest has been issued. Selhaver was seen near the Johnson home Aug. 12, a few hours before she crept from her bed for her last rest.

County Physician John Surdam, following an examination of the girl's body, stated the bullet unquestionably caused her death. The position of the bullet hole in the skull has resulted in a definite abandonment of the suicide theory. It is virtually established she met death within an hour after she quietly dressed and stole away from home.

Awakened by Woman's Screams.
Saturday, the second anniversary of the finding of the bodies of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills under a cherry tree on a farm, a well-dressed woman drove to the Johnson home and asked to speak alone with Mrs. Johnson.

She said she lived only a short distance from the spot where the body was found and that she had reason to believe she knew where Elizabeth's body was hidden. She was awakened at midnight Aug. 12 by a woman's piercing screams. They were screams of terror. Words, perhaps a plea for mercy, were cried out, but were too faint for her to understand. They were interrupted by a shot. There was another scream, a second shot, then silence.

Hearing nothing further of this midnight incident, the woman made no investigation and forgot the matter until the body was discovered Sunday. After giving the girl's mother this information, she drove away hastily, without revealing her name.

The Johnsons declared footprints found by their barn the morning of Aug. 13 were Selhaver's. He had bought new shoes a few days before, they said, pointed shoes with rubber heels. They believe he saw Elizabeth secretly on the afternoon of Aug. 12, that he arranged a meeting and that he waited for her that night.

By the Associated Press.
DEDHAM, Mass., Sept. 17.—The Willett case, a trial now in its eleventh month, that has taken rank as one of the longest in the annals of the world's jurisprudence, will be continued with only 11 jurors. Judge Christopher Callahan today announced that Juror Joseph L. Day had been excused because of a nervous breakdown.

George F. Willett is suing Robert F. Herlick and a group of Boston capitalists for $15,000,000 as damages resulting from an alleged conspiracy affecting the American Felt Co. and the Daniel Green Felt Shoe Co. The case began early in November of last year.

Vanishing Child Found.

By the Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 17.—Jean Beggs, 9 years old, daughter of Martin Beggs of Detroit, who disappeared twice in as many days, was found again last night and must remain in custody of juvenile authorities of Lebanon, O., until her parents send for her. Jean disappeared from her home in Detroit Monday. She was found on a Big Four passenger train here Monday night and placed in the hospital of the Children's Home. The girl disappeared again during the night. She appeared at a farmhouse 10 miles north of this city, accompanied by a stranger.

Trade an old clothes closet for a new bathroom

Here is a practical bathroom plan which groups four Crane fixtures in a space only six by six and one-half feet. There is room in your home for this extra necessity. Look over your spare closet space. See where this bathroom can be fitted up.

An extra bathroom will add more to home than anything else the same money will buy

There are thousands of fine old homes which need only another bathroom, equipped with modern fixtures, to make them as comfortable and convenient as new houses would be.

Built when space was less costly, nearly all of these older homes—and many new ones—have odd corners, large closets or tiny spare rooms which can be turned into inviting extra bathrooms at small expense. A dark, inside room can be used as well as day-lighted space.

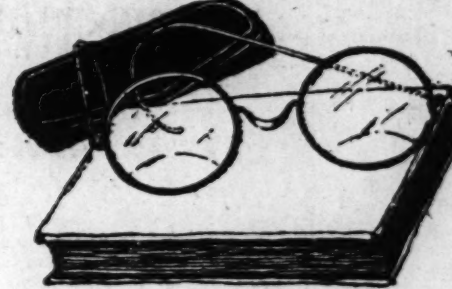

Your plumbing contractor can aid you in finding this unused space. He will suggest the right fixtures to meet your needs, and will show you how to arrange them to the best advantage in the room at your command.

Would Shut Down Gas Works

"My stomach has been so filled with gas for the last three years that I feel I could pretty nearly supply our town. I have suffered terrible pain in right side of the abdomen and in the region of the appendix. Doctors didn't help much. One day my neighbor told me about 'that Mary's Wonderful Remedy' and I bought a bottle. I am a doctor and a druggist. I CAN say that it will do as much for you as it did for me. It is a simple, but a powerful medicine that removes the catarrhal mucous from the stomach and intestinal tract, and the fermentation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal troubles, including indigestion, flatulency, gas, and constipation. One dose will convince of success. It is sold by all druggists. 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People,' 'Dr. J. C. Davis' and 'Dr. C. C. Davis' are also sold by all druggists." Record Made in This Ancient Game Broken by Bottomley

(The following account, published June 10, 1892, shows that Wilbert Robinson drove in 11 men in one game. Bottomley yesterday drove in twelve.)

BALTIMORE, June 10, 1892.—Baltimore smothered St. Louis today by a score of 25 to 4, hitting three pitchers for a total of 25 hits. Sadie McMahon held the crew from the Mound City to seven hits and pitched strongly throughout. He was the only Baltimore player who failed to get a hit or a run during the game. Wilbert Robinson, the slugging catcher, slapped out seven hits in seven tries, one of the hits a double. The durable receiver also batted in 11 runs, making two major-league records in one afternoon.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 17.—Joe Jackson, former outfielder of the Chicago White Sox, filed notice of an appeal here yesterday from the decision of Judge John J. Gregory, which set aside a verdict of $15,000 by a jury awarded the player as damages, salary and back pay against the White Sox owners. Near-Title Bout On Amateur Ring Program Tonight

Kaiser-Goldberg Contest Is Expected to Prove Feature of Card.

An amateur bantamweight bout of city championship class is scheduled as the feature attraction of an outdoor boxing tournament to be held under the auspices of the Business Men's A. C. tonight at the Battery arena. Eddie Kaiser of the South Broadway A. C. and Eddie Goldberg of the National A. C. are the principals in the bout.

Another promising event on tonight's card will bring together Tony Pirone of the Sherman Park A. C. and Eddie O'Neal of the South Broadway club, in a return match. O'Neal shaded Pirone in a previous setto which was so hotly contested that an extra round was ordered by the judges before they were able to reach a decision.

Bob Hill of the Sherman Park A. C. and Jack Horner of the National A. C. are also billed for a featherweight bout, while Jimmy Dugan, a Muny favorite, meets Jack Kelly in a welterweight special.

Sharpe to Referee.
Harry Sharpe will referee all bouts. Judge Robert W. Hall and Louis Terry, a featherweight favorite of the South Broadway troupe, will meet Tom Mizera of Hillsboro, Ill., in another feature attraction. Terry recently chalked up his fifth successive knockout victory when he stopped Al Vasquez.

Men and Women now keep their hair smooth, lustrous, always in place

Today, as never before, men and women have smooth, well-kept hair. Why? A few years ago the hair was a nuisance to almost everyone, for it was usually the least attractive part of the appearance—always unkempt and unsightly an hour after being combed.

There was no way, then, to keep it from being so. Old-fashioned pomades only matted it and made it greasy. Water evaporated quickly and left it drier and more unruly than ever.

Today everyone can have smooth, neatly combed hair. Now Stacomb—a delicate, invisible cream for keeping the hair in place—has changed all that.

It is responsible for the amazingly improved appearance of men's hair. And it has made possible for every woman, however "difficult" her hair, the new smooth effect so much in vogue.

In the clubs and cafes, at the theatre or the opera, today you can seldom find even one case of unkempt hair.

People who know that the hair can ruin the whole appearance—people who are careful about the way they look—have given Stacomb an important place on their chiffonier or dressing table.

No matter how dry and straggly your hair may be—no matter how uncontrollable after being washed—Stacomb will keep it always in place, smooth, lustrous, natural. A touch of it in the morning when you comb your hair—and all day long your hair will be just as you want it.

You can now get Stacomb in two forms—the original light, invisible cream in jars and tubes, and Liquid Stacomb, newly prepared for those who prefer it. Non-staining and non-greasy. At all drug and department stores. Use it tomorrow morning—and look your best all day!

Standard Laboratories, Inc., Dept. A3-34, 115 W. 18th St., New York City. Please send me, free of charge, a generous sample tube of Stacomb.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Michigan's proud place in football has been duly recognized by her sister institutions this year. The Wolverines will participate in no less than three stadium openings. Has any other college eleven been honored more abundantly in this respect?

October 11 the Yost crew will go to Lansing to help put the Michigan stadium into commission. If scores of games in recent years are displayed in huge numbers at strategic intervals about the arena such legends as Michigan 10, Argles 6, 1921; Michigan 63, Argles 6, 1922; Michigan 37, Argles 6, 1923. will add to the decorative embellishment but will not be otherwise inspiring to the home crowd.

Then on Oct. 18, the Wolverines will assist in the dedication of the great Illinois stadium at Urbana. It is the Illinois idea that Michigan upon this occasion shall be the principal figure in a classical sacrifice to the gods. But the maize and blue will probably have other ideas as to this. Seriously, the Big Ten 1924 championship may well be decided on that day. Zuppke's men have two bids to eliminate from the ascendency—a 2 to 0 beating in 1921, and 24 to 0 in 1922. Last year when these teams should have met they didn't.

November 1 Michigan will join with Minnesota in opening the Georgia stadium. All in all the Wolverines will be fed up on official circumstance and perverted oratory by the time they have completed the approaching season.

It Must Hurt

The honest competition of a superior product has driven one gasoline company to resort to misrepresentation of Benzo-Gas.

There have recently been distributed from the filling stations of a Refining Company printed leaflets containing false and libelous statements in reference to motor fuel composed of benzol mixed with gasoline. As Benzo-Gas is the original and only benzol and gasoline mixture motor fuel procurable in this city it is obvious that this libel is directed against it.

There has been a systematic "whispering campaign" of misrepresentation regarding Benzo-Gas for the last four years. Motorists have been warned by filling station attendants and others of injurious effects of Benzo-Gas on motors.

This is the first time, however, that anyone would put the story into type and come out in the open and give us an opportunity to make a reply.

Here Are the FACTS

1. Benzo-Gas never was put on the market as a competitor for gasoline. Benzo-Gas is a motor fuel made for the motorists who wanted something better than gasoline. That there is a demand for Benzo-Gas is proven by the fact that thousands of motorists in Kansas City, St. Louis, Minneapolis and St. Paul will not use any other motor fuel.

2. Benzo-Gas is the original "No Knock" motor fuel. That there is a demand for a "No Knock" motor fuel is best evidenced by the fact that during the last year supplementary products have been developed to take the "knock" out of gasoline. Great stress has been laid on the fact that these "anti-knock" compounds will do what Benzo-Gas has always done.

3. Despite all the "whispering" and misrepresentation, Benzo-Gas sales have shown a steady increase. This increase in sales is due to the fact that motorists who try BENZO-GAS realize that there is no truth in the stories and that it is a superior motor fuel. There is no doubt but that thousands of motorists have refrained from even trying Benzo-Gas because of the malicious stories circulated.

A FAIR CHALLENGE

We challenge the Company to propose within thirty days from September 10, 1924, any test or series of tests appropriate to prove the truth or falsity of the derogatory statements in reference to Benzo-Gas contained in their leaflet or to prove that Benzo-Gas as a motor fuel is or can be in any way injurious to the cylinders, valves, pistons, bearings or any other metal parts of an automobile motor. If such test is approved as fair and reasonable by any reputable and disinterested automobile engineer or chemist, we hereby agree to accept the same and participate in the test, and we further agree that the results thereof may be published. In default of proposing and carrying out such test or tests we will expect the Company to make public retraction of the derogatory statements contained in the leaflets distributed from their stations.

LE S

Four business- men were sitting at a table in a restaurant, waiting for the fifth member to complete the party.

The conversation turned to used automobiles and the four men voiced various opinions as to which was the safest place to buy a used car.

In the midst of their discussion the fifth member entered.

"I don't know at it's all about, but you're talking about used cars, there is only one Yahlem," he said, "that settles all arguments."

SAYS HE HAD TO WAKE POLICEMAN EVERY HOUR

Negro Garage Attendant Says
Patrolmen Furnished Ample Work, but No Pay.

That there can be too much police protection, particularly when unrequested, was demonstrated yesterday by testimony before the Police Board, at a hearing of charges against Patrolman Edwin Wachter of the Magnolia Avenue Station.

The charges against Patrolman Wachter resulted from complaints filed by Alex J. Carpenter and his son, Robert, proprietors of the Highway Garage, 4432 Manchester avenue. The person most discommoded, however, as a result of the unrequested nightly presence of policemen in the Highway Garage, was, according to the testimony, George Miller, negro night attendant.

Miller told in a sworn statement, how Patrolman Wachter and Probationary Patrolman Harry Boyd, walking adjoining beats, imposed on his time and the premises of his employer.

Early in August, according to Miller, Patrolman Wachter began parking his automobile in the garage nightly, without charge. Also, Probationary Patrolman Boyd parked himself in Wachter's car, imposing on Miller the duty of awakening him in time to make his hourly telephone report. "That Miller Boyd didn't do much beat walkin," Miller testified. "I'd wake him about five minutes to, and he'd be back and asleep about five minutes after. Mister Wachter, he wasn't so bad that way. He only took naps on two nights."

Wachter was troublesome also, Miller said. Once he had his car washed and polished. He had not requested the service, the negro testified but when a policeman says, his car is "kind of dirty" what is a colored boy to do? Also, Miller said, he helped Wachter install a $25 horn, taken from a shelf on the garage, on Wachter's car. The policeman had told Miller to "tail the boss about it." But did not leave anything but his old horn in payment.

Sleep Over, "Begin Joy Ridin'." "When Wachter told me, 'Begin Joy Ridin' in the Ford that belonged to the gas company I sure was in a fix," Miller assured the board. "He just say, 'I'm going to take out that roadster.' What was I to do? Policemen has too much artillery for a colored boy to monkey with. I was glad when the boss saw the fenders he bent on that roadster and made me tell all about it."

Patrolman Wachter told the board that he had offered to pay Miller for all services, and had been assured there were no charges. He denied ever imposing on Miller, and was restored to duty by the board. Boyd is under suspension as the result of charges preferred against him by his wife, and the date of his hearing in the garage case has not been set.

FORMER PROSECUTOR HERE IN ANOTHER AUTO CRASH

Phillips W. Moss Again Declared by City Hospital Doctors to Have Been Drinking.

For the second time within a month Phillips W. Moss, 49 years old, of 419 Algonquin lane, Webster Groves, former Prosecutor with Attorney of St. Louis, was arrested early today after an automobile accident, and, as in the first instance, was declared by doctors at the city hospital to have been drinking.

Two couples crashed in front of 604 North Kingshighway at 12:30 a. m., and when the police arrived they found Moss, driver of one, in a dazed condition. They sent him to the city hospital and then to the Page Boulevard Police Station. The other machine was driven by Charles S. Greenberg, 440 Lee avenue, Kirkwood.

On Aug. 12, at 10:15 p. m., Moss was driving west on Locust street when he collided with the street car on the south side of Twenty-third street with a machine driven by John Gross, 17 years old, of Webster Groves. Moss was taken to the city hospital, where the doctors said that he was in no condition to operate an automobile. He was taken to the Laclede Avenue Station, where he gave bond. There was no prosecution.

BOND FRAUD INQUIRY OPENED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Charles B. Brewer, who made the original charges of bond duplicating in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, testified at the opening of an investigation today by a House committee that he had been blocked in his investigation by J. F. Macgough, head of the securities section of the Treasury. Brewer declared he had been given authority for the investigation by Under-Secretary Winston, but after two and one-half days he was stopped.

Brewer said he was confident that some of the bonds had been issued in duplicate fraudulently. The witness said he discovered that New York reserve banks had been issuing revolving stocks, which meant that bonds which had been exchanged for those of other denominations had been re-issued instead of being cancelled. He reported the practice to President Harding, he said, and the President agreed with his views that it was a dangerous policy. Later, he added, the Treasury issued a circular forbidding revolving stocks.

War Correspondent Dead.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Matthew Fitzsimmons Tighe, noted newspaper correspondent, who predicted the destruction of the battleship Maine two days before it was blown up in Havana Harbor, 25 years ago, died here today at the age of 67. He suffered a stroke of apoplexy several months ago. His widow, a son and a daughter survive.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

MAXIMS OF A MODERN MAID

WHEN a man lies to a woman he has four sporting chances: (1) She believes him; (2) she doesn't believe him; (3) she believes him and pretends she doesn't; (4) she doesn't believe him and pretends she does. The fourth is the likeliest bet.

Sometimes a cat says "Meow! meow!" and sometimes she says, "I don't blame you, dear, for not wearing a one-piece bathing suit. If I were you" (i. e. had your figure), "I wouldn't either."

A wife is a person who asks at regular intervals, "Do you love me?" and a husband is an individual willing to concede but not volunteer the affirmative.

It used to be "sighing for the moon," but among younger set on Long Island it is now called "sighing for the Prince." Probably three-quarters of elopements and secret marriages are due to the young's panic-stricken avoidance of that unanswerable question of the elders: "What do you SEE in him (her)?"

The fact of woman consists in asking a man to explain something to her perfectly—even when she knows it perfectly, too.

The woman who says she "never believes a word of gossip" doesn't want her high-minded skepticism to make her either deaf or dumb.

Other Women's Teeth

are whiter, clear, glistening—why not yours?

Remove the dingy film that's clouding them—you'll be surprised that your own teeth are as pretty as anyone's—make this unique test.

WHAT most of us have pretty teeth without ever revealing them, is the remarkable assertion of many high dental authorities.

This is why: Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a film. A film which you cannot see with your eye, but which absorbs discolorations and hides the natural color of your teeth.

Remove it and your teeth take on a new beauty. Maybe you have really beautiful teeth without realizing it.

Film is charged too with most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, enters into crevices and stays, breeds in it. And they, tartar, are the chief cause of decay.

So, besides loss of tooth beauty, there is a serious danger to healthy teeth. You must remove and constantly combat it. It is ever present, ever forming.

Old-time dentifrices were unable to combat it successfully. So most people had unattractive teeth no matter how often they cleaned them. And tooth troubles were a serious problem.

Now modern science has discovered a new way. A new-type tooth paste called Pepsodent that acts to curdle film, then harmlessly to remove it. No soap or chalk, no harsh grit dangerous to enamel.

Mail the coupon for a 10-day tube free. Or, buy a full size tube at any drugist's today. See what beauty lies beneath the film on your teeth.

Know Your Own Child

A Practical Psychologist Gives Assistance to Parents Who Have Difficult Problems to Solve.

By L. S. BRADY.

EVER in ancient times the greatest riddle of mankind has been Man. Over the portal of one of the famous temples of long ago was blazoned this inscription: "Man, Know Thyself." Today we know more about the forces which are in operation in this universe of ours, but do we know more of the destiny of Man?

The psychologist is not concerned with the origin of life; he is not concerned with the possibility of life after death; but he is vitally concerned with the problem of human happiness here and now. We do know that Man has somehow been born into a world which he did not make, and into which he did not ask to come; our problem is: How can he make the best of it?

How can YOUR child make the best of it? Shall you train him that service to others is the supreme law of life, or that his own glorious self-development is the greatest good he can accomplish?

Examples of both types come readily to mind, but the best thought of the ages agrees that first of all there had better be a long period of self-development—the name we give to it is "Education." Keep in mind, then, that education is not merely a few tricks of memory, but is everything which can cause the particular individual to react with the greatest pleasure to his environment.

Right here is a philosophy directly opposed to Puritanism; yet by pleasure is not meant something transitory and fleeting, but that which grows and flowers and perpetuates the whole of life with its exquisite fragrance.

This philosophy will answer such questions as "Shall I train my son to be a specialist, from his earliest youth onward?" You see, you will want your boy to have many experiences—to meet life in many ways, and to learn the beauty of many, many things—of the fiery glory of the sunset, of the somber grandeur of the star-flecked sky, of the rapture of good music and the satisfaction of a race well run.

Parents often write to me about the unsatisfactory progress of their children in school; well, that is not anything terrible. After all, life is a far bigger school than the four walls of a dingy building. And so long as schools put the emphasis on such comparatively useless subjects as Latin and the mere names and dates of events, just so long will children rebel, and rightly so.

In the past few years psychologists have been endeavoring to eliminate from the school curriculum those facts which are so little used in our modern civilization as to constitute a waste of time and effort in their learning. Children, often wiser than their teachers, prefer to spend their energy on picking up bits of information which will enable them to live better from day to day. That is right.

Anyone who has to listen to the insatiable demand for information of young children knows that they are intensely eager to learn. It is the fault of our educational system if they are not given those things to learn which will make of them not merely good spellers and good arithmeticians, but rather socially effective individuals who are happier from day to day as a result of their time in school.

In a previous article I showed the origin of that viciously fallacious doctrine that mind and body are separate and distinct. Mind, you remember, was defined as merely the sum total of all the individual experiences of the individual; the body is the means we have of getting these experiences, and the brain is where most of them are stored.

Consequently, do not be confused by the insistence that psychology makes upon the proper care of the body. If your child has adenoids, don't expect him to make 100 per cent in all his school work; his blood isn't getting enough oxygen, his brain is not getting enough nourishment, and his experiences are not registering as clearly as they otherwise would be.

In short, to know your own child, you will begin to study philosophy and physiology as well as psychology. In a later article I will take up some of the specific facts that you will be most interested in.

Bobby Coon Gets the Blame

The way some folks can shift all blame to others is a crying shame.

—Peter Rabbit.

He ran now as fast as he could make his legs go

NOW it wasn't a great while before Farmer Brown discovered that someone was stealing tender, young ears of corn in his cornfield and doing a lot of damage. He didn't begrudge a few ears of corn, but the thief wasn't satisfied with a few ears. He was ruining a great many by taking a bite or two from an ear and then leaving it. Then, too, he had broken down many stalks.

One good look at the damage satisfied Farmer Brown that he knew who the thief was. "A Coon has done this," he declared. "We can't let this go on. That fellow will have to be taught a lesson."

Now Farmer Brown's boy didn't doubt at all that his father was right. He knew Bobby Coon's love of corn in the milk. Every year Bobby had visited the cornfield and had been in mischief in just the same way. He didn't want to harm Bobby, but he decided that Bobby would have to be given a good fright so that he would keep away from that cornfield.

So that very night after supper Farmer Brown's boy took Bowser the Hound to the edge of the cornfield nearest the Green Forest and set him to hunting for the scent of Bobby Coon. Back and forth, this way and that way, Bowser ran with his nose to the ground, while Farmer Brown's boy followed. Not once did Bowser yelp.

"It must be that Bobby comes over late at night," said Farmer Brown's boy to Bowser. "We'll go over to the Green Forest and see if we can find any signs of him there."

By and by Bowser's great voice rang out. He had found Bobby

Bobby is much more sly than he looks. For a short distance he can get over the ground at a lively rate. He cannot keep it up for a long distance because he is too heavy.

He ran now as fast as he could make his legs go until he began to grow tired and to puff. Then he picked out a big tree and climbed it. Way up to the tip top he went, and there he flattened himself against the trunk. Then he waited, and as he waited he was frightened and very sore at heart. It wasn't the hunting season yet, and he couldn't understand why he was being hunted now. Perhaps it was only Bowser himself hunting on his own hook. In that case there would be nothing to worry about.

FLYERS LUNCH AT ST. JOSEPH, CIRCLE OVER KANSAS CITY

Given Great Welcome at Former Place, Where They Munched Sandwiches While Crowd Looked On.

MUSKOGEE NEXT POINT ON DAY'S RUN

Globe Girders Making Swift Sweep to the Southwest, Having Left Omaha This Morning.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 18.—The world flyers circled over Kansas City at 2:30 p. m. central standard time, today, on their way to Muskogee, Ok.

By the Associated Press.
ROSECRANS FIELD, ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 18.—After a stop of less than an hour here today for lunch and fuel the world flyers hopped off for Muskogee, Ok. Lieut. Lowell H. Smith in the flag plane Chicago was the first to take the air. He was away at 1:26 p. m. Lieut. Leigh Wade was up next, two minutes behind the flag plane. Lieut. Nelson followed several minutes later.

The flyers headed south for Kansas City, over which they will fly. Lieut. Smith said he expected the flight to Muskogee would require five hours.

Lieut. Smith read Associated Press weather reports telling of low visibility and threatening weather near the Oklahoma-Kansas border, but decided to push on. Lieut. Wright, flying in advance of the globe circled over Lincoln, Smith that in event of bad flying conditions south of Kansas City the planes could return and remain in Kansas City over night.

The round-the-world flyers landed at Rosecrans Field at 12:23 p. m. central standard time, from Omaha, and received a wild demonstration.

The 125-mile flight down the Missouri River valley from Nebraska was made in 1 hour and 45 minutes.

Tens of thousands of persons greeted the flyers as they passed over St. Joseph and at the landing field, five miles out, more than 5000 spectators gathered to do honor to the globe encirclers.

In the city factory whistles shrieked, bells clanged and hundreds of motor car horns blared out a welcome.

Streets were filled with people raising their necks upward and the tops of many buildings were crowded with office workers.

One-Pounder Is Fired.

The flagplane Chicago, piloted by Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, landed first. Lieut. Leigh Wade in the Boston II followed, and Lieut. Eric Nelson then landed the New Orleans.

While the flyers were overhead a one-pounder boomed out a 21-gun signal.

The three pilots were escorted to a reviewing stand for welcoming ceremony. Seated on the front row of the stand, Lieutenants Smith, Nelson and Wade munched sandwiches and drank coffee while speakers extolled their remarkable accomplishments.

N. S. Hillyard of St. Joseph, greeted the flyers as "you Magellans of the air." It was fitting, he said, that St. Joseph, once a pony express station, should be a stopping place of the globe encirclers. "May God speed you on your way," he said, "and keep you unto your journey's end."

The Official Welcome.
Carl H. Wolfley of St. Joseph, governor of the Missouri District of the National Aeronautic Association, presided and presented to the flyers leather bill folds containing gold plates appropriately inscribed in commemoration of the stop in St. Joseph. The flyers were officially welcomed by Brigadier-General Harry Smith, Commandant of Fort Leavenworth, on behalf of the Army; Adjutant-General William A. Raup of the Missouri National Guard in the name of Gov. Arthur M. Hyde and the Thirty-fifth Division National Guard, and Mayor Henry E. Gross of St. Joseph.

Twenty visiting army and civilian planes were at Rosecrans field to welcome the flyers.

Ten army planes from Kansas City, piloted by reserve officers, came in. The pilots were Lieutenants Haynes, Steinhart, Grogan, Davies, Deigle, Spake, Childs, Mason, Campbell and Curtis.

Flyers Hopped Off From Omaha at 10:41 This Morning.
AIR MAIL FIELD, FORT MOORE, Neb., Sept. 18.—
